

HOOVER, ROOSEVELT PLAN CONFERENCE

HINT AMERICA TO DENY NEW DEBT HOLIDAY

PROBLEM WILL BE UP FOR ACTION BY CONGRESS

Washington, Nov. 14. (AP)—A momentous diplomatic and legislative battle was forecast today as Washington studied week-end developments in the ever-thorny war-debts problem and President Hoover hurried to Washington for a discussion of the subject with his successor-elect, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Meanwhile, a distinct possibility arose—and was put into words by one influential house Democrat—that America's answer to the plea of Great Britain and France for an extension of the Hoover moratorium and re-examination of the debt situation might be a flat "No," with this followed by an outright default of payments due on Dec. 15.

This possibility has been foreseen for months by the administration as regrettable certainly, but perhaps inevitable. If it should come about the situation of a defaulting nation would be much the same as that of a man unable to meet a debt that has fallen due—a money paid, but the obligation still outstanding.

Solution Sought

However, Mr. Hoover and Mr. Roosevelt will analyze the situation within a few days and an effort may follow to avoid a default by some alteration of the present arrangement. Whatever the outcome of this almost unprecedented exchange of views between present and future government heads, one fact was clearly apparent—that a real solution can be reached only through the edifying and laborious process of compromising the sharply differing attitudes not only of nations but, and equally important, of the men in congress whose collective work, in the end, will be final.

This is the official attitude of the American government as expressed in the rider which congress attached by an emphatic vote to the Hoover moratorium agreement, opposing both reduction and extension of the debt holiday, was brought into bold contrast with Europe's insistence upon some measure of relief from its obligations, attested by French and British notes lying unanswered in a state department vault, asking that the moratorium be prolonged and the whole problem be made the subject of international re-examination.

Meanwhile, congressional leaders were expressing opposing views on what should be done, which clearly foreshadowed a battle royal when the issue is joined in debate.

The possibility of a default is known to have been considered by the administration as long as a year ago. Such a result, its leaders believed, would prove a severe blow to the already distressed world economic situation and one

Legion Committee For Dry Law Repeat And Bonus Payment

Indianapolis, Nov. 14. (AP)—The national executive committee of the American Legion, meeting here today for the first time since the last national convention, adopted a program in line with resolutions approved at that meeting.

Louis A. Johnson, national commander, told the committee the Legion would "go squarely down the line" for prohibition repeal and immediate cash payment of the bonus in accordance with convention resolutions.

Opposition to veterans' hospitalization and compensation legislation, John Thomas Taylor, vice chairman of the national legislative committee said, has arisen from persons who desire to "shift the cost back to local communities because at present 42,000 big federal income taxpayers are paying four-fifths of it."

CLAIMS ROBINS WAS MURDERED

Alleged Swindler Says Dry Worker Tossed Into Atlantic

Boston, Nov. 14. (AP)—A story which police said today would bear "deeper investigation" was related by an alleged swindler who said Col. Raymond Robins, missing prohibition worker and friend of President Hoover, was thrown to his death in the Atlantic ocean 40 miles off Montauk Point, L. I., after being kidnapped by rum runners.

Police said Ralph Code, 40, held on a charge of swindling two New York men, said Robins, for whom a fruitless nationwide search has been conducted after he disappeared Sept. 3, was abducted on orders of a New York beer baron.

Held Under Bond

Police said Code told one of the men, Carlisle O. Byrd, oil and mining promoter, of the death of Colonel Robins in an effort to substantiate his alleged knowledge of ship movements and of the underworld's "ex-secrct service man." Officials of the secret service at Washington said, however, that Code had never been an agent of the service as far as they knew.

Code was held in $10,000 bond after he had pleaded not guilty to the charge of swindling. His case was continued until Nov. 28. He was specifically charged with the larceny of $325 from Byrd and $600 from Edmund H. Noyes, a guest at the Prince George hotel, New York. The method employed in obtaining the money from the two men was a scheme to raise a treasure-laden ship from the ocean bottom, police alleged.

Code was arrested last Saturday upon his return to a Boston hotel from the Harvard-Holy Cross football game.

Colonel Robins was last reported seen outside a New York club. His absence did not become generally known until he failed to keep an appointment with President Hoover several days later. His wife first said she believed him to be the victim of rum-runners because of his prohibition activities. Later she said she was confident he would return after the national election.

Orders Property In Cook County Sold For Taxes

Chicago, Nov. 14. (AP)—Dealing what county authorities regarded as a decisive blow at the so-called tax strike, County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki today ordered 56,000 barrels of Cook county real estate—valued at some $50,000,000—sold for taxes.

The property belonged to 26,000 members of the association of real estate taxpayers which for months has fought payment of real estate tax on the ground that the assessments were illegal. The association contended the assessments levied too great a tax against real estate and not enough against personal property.

County officials said the decision of the judge overruling objections against the 1930 assessment would bring in at least $8,000,000 to the depleted treasury and would start clearing up the county's muddled tax situation.

Detroit Sentenced For Selling Liquor

Owosso, Mich., Nov. 14. (AP)—Circuit Judge J. H. Collins today sentenced Merwin Roach, of Detroit, to serve from one to three years in Jackson prison for violation of the Michigan prohibition law. Roach was a second offender and his attorney had secured a postponement of the sentence until after the referendum on repeal of prohibition amendment.

In statements today, Judge Collins and various law enforcement officers said that they would continue to enforce the prohibition laws so long as they are on the statute books.

BRUCKER ASKS COMSTOCK TO VISIT CAPITAL

URGES CONFERENCE ON LEGISLATIVE PROBLEMS

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 14. (AP)—Governor Brucker today invited Comstock to visit the executive office for a conference on legislative problems and office details.

At the same time two newly elected state officials sent word today they will be here this week to acquaint themselves with their new duties.

The governor assured Comstock "if there is any way in which I can be of assistance to you, I trust that you will feel free to call upon me." He said he would conform his business schedule to meet the governor-elect's convenience.

Governor Brucker said his invitation also extended to special commissions now at work on governmental problems. The two most important are those investigating the costs of local and state government.

Stack Plans Trip

Word was received that Theodore I. Fry of Fremont, who defeated State Treasurer Howard C. Lawrence, and John K. Stack, Jr., of Escanaba, newly elected auditor general, will come here Thursday.

Lawrence had telegraphed Fry last Wednesday offering to be of any assistance to him in acquainting the latter with the work of the treasury's office. Fry said he wished to see the state payrolls on his visit here.

Governor Brucker's Letter to Comstock follows:

"My Dear Mr. Comstock: "Because of my deep interest in the welfare of the people of this state I wish to place at your service every faculty at my command so that you may approach the problems that will face you in January with the best possible equipment of information.

"If there is any way in which I can be of assistance to you, I trust that you will feel free to call upon me. I am now arranging my own schedule for the next few weeks, but I shall be glad to make it conform as far as possible to your desires, if there is any point upon which I can personally be of assistance.

"Sincerely yours, "Wilbur M. Brucker."

Enter City Hall At 2:45 A. M. To See If Ballots Are Safe

Bay City, Nov. 14. (AP)—City Clerk Garrie C. Laing today said a police officer permitted a night janitor at the city hall to open the city clerk's office at 2:45 a. m. Sunday to two men connected with the secretary of state's department. Bailed cans, the clerk said, which were used to store the ballots in the last election are stored in a room adjoining the office.

The men, Louis Robinson, of Bay City, mail inspector and Lawrence Finley, of Flint, investigator for the title division of the secretary of state's office, told the officer they wanted to make sure the door to the room containing the ballots was locked and sealed. They did not enter the room where the ballots are stored, leaving when they found the door locked.

Robinson today said he had entered the office, acting on his own initiative, as he said he wanted to make sure the door to the ballot room was locked. Finley, he said, merely accompanied him to the room.

At Lansing today Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, said he had not authorized either of the men to enter the clerk's office.

Victims Of Cuban Disaster Cremated

Havana, Cuba, Nov. 14. (AP)—Cremation of the bodies of most of the estimated 2,500 persons killed last week when a great tidal wave virtually washed the town of Santa Cruz Del Sur off the southern Cuban shore was completed tonight.

A military cordon girdled the area to prevent looting in the ruins. The sea, which contrived with the funeral pyres to keep the exact number of deaths a secret, brought many bodies floating back to shore. It was estimated only about 1,000 of the town's 3,500 survived and most of them were injured.

Public works engineers expressed the opinion that, if the town ever is rebuilt, it will be several miles inland from the unprotected sand pit where it met the full force of the hurricane which left a trail of ruin from Colombia to the Bahamas.

Invoke Security Pacts And Arms Reduction is Possible, Says France

BY P. I. LIPSEY, JR., (Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, Nov. 14. (AP)—An elaborate scheme for breaking the disarmament deadlock, solving the problem of security and meeting Germany's arms equality demand by tying together arms reduction and security pacts, was submitted tonight in the disarmament conference in behalf of the French government.

The French plan calls for application of the Briand-Kellogg pact, the League of Nations covenant and special regional agreements for mutual assistance against any aggressor. It proposes reduction in effective and materials of war, with a special allotment of certain troops and

ROLPH TO FREE DRY VIOLATORS

1,000 Prisoners in California Will Be Released

Sacramento, Calif., Nov. 14. (AP)—Freedom came in sight today for about 1,000 persons held in California prisons and jails on charges of violating the state prohibition law when Governor James Rolph, Jr., announced he intended to pardon all these as a result of the two to one vote last Tuesday for repeal of the statute.

The governor said these violators will be released as soon as the results of the election are certified to him by the secretary of state.

State authorities recently estimated there were 300 Wright law violators in California prisons, and about 700 in county jails. The governor's announcement proclaimed his intention to "pardon all those who are not guilty of anything outside of the provisions of violating the Wright act."

The governor's announcement was but one of many developments in the state where willingness to abandon the old order was shown by city authorities in Oakland and other cities in the East. San Francisco bay area ordered police to stop all liquor raids. The Oakland council voted to repeal an anti-liquor ordinance. Many towns, particularly in northern California, signified their intention of forgetting prohibition.

Wineries of the state hummed with new activity in the light of increased possibilities for the legal sale of their vintages for beverage purposes.

Milk Strike Ends With Arbitration

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 14. (AP)—A strike of union milk wagon drivers, which almost precipitated a milk "famine" for the greater Cincinnati district, ended tonight when drivers, farmers and dealers agreed to arbitration. The drivers will return to work at 7 a. m. tomorrow.

The agreement to arbitrate was reached shortly before two organizations of dairy farmers were to meet to determine whether to cut off the milk supply to the greater Cincinnati area. Numerous instances of non union drivers being attacked while delivering milk earlier had caused a dozen distributors, including two which control a third of the retail milk business, to announce they would discontinue deliveries until settlement of the dispute.

Would Return of Beer Make Extra Jobs, Help Farmers and Prevent Racketeering?

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second of a series of six stories dealing with the present movement for the return of beer, a movement intensified by the recent elections.)

BY WILLIS THORNTON (NEA Service Writer) (Copyright 1932, NEA Service, Inc.) Suppose beer came back tomorrow!

Would it bring jobs to millions? Would it bring money piling into the U. S. treasury? Would it use much of our tremendous farm crop surplus? Would it kill off the racketeer?

These questions have only one honest answer. And that is, "No, body knows!"

First in importance in these times are the jobs. Very enthusiastic claims have been made. Augustus A. (Budweiser) Busch says 1,250,000 men. The A. F. of L. estimates 1,500,000. Other estimates have run up as high as 2,000,000 arms for the use of the league in enforcing peace.

Feature of Plan

The technical features of the plan, which is designed to achieve these general purposes, are:

1. The establishment in European countries of short term defensive conscript armies.
2. Special offensive forces which would be paced under the direction of the league in a time of emergency.
3. The establishment of stocks of powerful arms in certain localities in the countries providing those stocks, which would be under the control of this league and for the use of the league.
4. A special Mediterranean naval pact and a general pact for the suppression of the most offensive naval arms.
5. The abolition of aerial bombardment and the regulation of all aircraft to prevent the use of bombardment; the organization of European civil air transport under international European supervision and a special air force which would be placed at the disposition of the league for peace purposes.

Two underlying principles, which the French regard as of supreme importance, are that there shall be no rearmament and that the proposals are a unified whole, all parts of which are strictly essential to the success of the whole.

General discussion of the French plan will await a meeting of the general commission of the disarmament conference some time within the next few weeks, but Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, will present the British observations before the conference bureau, or steering committee, on Wednesday.

Sir John arrived today to prepare his exposition which he asserted will not be in the form of the submission of a British plan, but instead, an effort to make the French plan embody the British ideas.

The British foreign secretary conversed during the day with Norman H. Davis, American disarmament delegate; Arthur Henderson, president of the conference; Augusto Rosso, Italian representative, and Sir Eric Drummond, secretary general of the league.

Problems Political

A memorandum conveying the French plan said that the geographical situation and the special conditions of each state and continent must be taken into account before the reduction of armaments can be accomplished.

The problem before the conference is political as well as technical, the French contended, the disarmament and security must progress along parallel lines.

"With this conclusion," the memorandum continued, "is connected another, which on the occasion of the discussions aroused by President Hoover's proposals met with unanimous approval, namely that the task which lies before this conference consists in increasing the comparative power of the defense through decreases in the power of the attack."

"With this end in view reductions of effectives and quantitative and qualitative reductions in material have been contemplated."

The memorandum goes on to say that the conference must examine the whole problem of the relative value of different types of soldiers and materials, for in no other way can a solution be found for the question of military equality. This issue recently was raised by Germany.

"While the French government has objected," the memorandum says, "to the conditions in which

STATE ACT ON PROHIBITION IS NOT REPEALED

LEGISLATURE MUST ACT, VOORHIES RULES

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 14. (AP)—Attorney General Paul W. Voorhies handed down an opinion today declared the recently adopted amendment abolishing the bone dry clause of state constitution does not repeal the state prohibition enforcement act.

The opinion was written at the request of Governor Brucker. The executive had previously stated that the enforcement policies of his administration on the liquor issue would follow the attorney general's ruling.

Voorhies ruled that the enforcement act remains on the statute books until repealed by the legislature.

"The amendment," Voorhies wrote, "does not repeal any existing statutes. In fact it expressly limits the powers of the liquor control commission to be created by the legislature to statutory limitations and authorizes the legislature, not the commission, to provide for an excise tax on the sales of liquor."

Up To Legislature

"It is my opinion," that the adoption of this amendment, of and in itself has no effect whatever upon the present prohibition statutes of this state and that the provisions of Act No. 338, Public Acts of 1917 (prohibition enforcement act), as amended, are all in force and effect and will remain in force and effect unless and until its provisions are amended or repealed by action of the legislature of this state."

The opinion meant the state will continue to enforce the prohibition laws under the present administration. The next legislature is expected to deal with the question early in its deliberations.

Adoption of the amendment at last Tuesday's election precipitated a sharp controversy over the status of enforcement particularly in Wayne county.

The amendment goes into effect December 8.

CONTINUE ENFORCEMENT

Detroit, Nov. 14. (AP)—Continued enforcement of state laws against manufacture and sale of liquor after the repeal of the "bone dry" constitutional amendment becomes effective on December 8 was promised today by Prosecutor Harry S. Toy.

At the same time recorder's court judges announced they had decided to continue hearing prohibition cases and that the disposition of each case would be left to the individual judge. Outside suggestions that suspended sentences be given were vetoed. Sentencing of seven violators, set for today, was postponed while the judges sought vainly to reach a decision on policies.

Police Commissioner James K. Watkins instructed inspectors and precinct commanders to watch carefully for any attempts to reorganize disrupted liquor gangs. On enforcement of the state liquor statutes, he ordered the men to exercise great care in preparation of cases against violators.

Prosecutor Toy said he would recommend the issuance of warrants on the same basis as in the past until December 8. After the repeal becomes effective, he said, "the possession of liquor will not be illegal if not for sale, but other violations will be prosecuted as now under the statutes."

Federals Busy

Eight warrants were issued today by the prosecutor's office. Federal enforcement activities continued, with padlocks clamped on 14 places by Federal Judge Edward J. Molnet for violation of the national prohibition act.

Meanwhile, William F. Connolly

Abbott Is Awaiting Canvass Of Votes

Saginaw, Nov. 14. (AP)—Burnett J. Abbott, Democratic candidate for secretary of state who on the basis of unofficial returns apparently was beaten by Frank Fitzgerald, incumbent, said Monday he would not ask a recount until the official canvass of votes is made, showing the extent of Fitzgerald's lead. Nearly completed unofficial returns showed Abbott trailing by about 3,400 votes.

Attempted Suicide Victim Improves

Mr. Clemens, Mich., Nov. 14. (AP)—Ethel Alsip, 17 year old Roseville resident, was reported in a fair condition Monday after an attempt at suicide said, at suicide over a love affair. The girl shot herself through the left lung and walked to a neighbor's home to tell of the deed. She is in a hospital here.

DEANS OF CONGRESS

Senator William E. Borah, (Rep., Idaho), above, and Representative Edward P. Pou (Dem., N. C.), below, will be the new deans of congress after March 4, 1933. Haugen (Rep., Iowa), were defeated in the recent election.

TAX LIMITATION PROPOSAL WINS

Unofficial Returns Indicate Amendment is Safely Carried

Detroit, Nov. 14. (AP)—Unofficial but nearly complete figures tonight gave the tax limitation proposal on last Tuesday's ballot a 22,465 affirmative majority and indicated that it carried by a safe majority.

The figures, with all but 126 precincts reported, were: yes, 628,461; no, 615,996. Of the missing precincts, twelve are in Wayne county where available returns gave approximately a 3 to 2 adverse majority. The rest were scattered over the entire state with affirmative majorities indicated in most of them.

Hal H. Smith, Detroit attorney who has made an exhaustive study of the amendment for the Michigan Manufacturers Association, said today he was convinced the economies which would be necessary under its provisions would not work serious hardships on governmental units.

He said his investigation disclosed that $130,000,000 of Michigan's gross tax bill of $254,000,000 last year was for delinquent services, which would be reduced by the amendment. That he said, is slightly more than 50 per cent leaving the tax levy for all general purposes in Michigan only 16.18 mills, or 1.18 mills more than the limit the amendment would impose.

GAS TAXES REDUCED

Citing the reductions in governmental costs which he said amounted to $26,000,000 last year, he pointed out that the gross taxation already has been reduced from $254,000,000 to approximately $228,000,000 for the current year. Of the reductions, he said, $6,000,000 was taken from the state budget; $16,000,000 from the cost of schools and $4,000,000 from the cost of county governments.

Of the state's $23,000,000 budget, he said, $6,000,000 is for debt charges exempted in the amendment, leaving the net levy 2.34 mills on the seven billions of assessed valuation.

County budgets, he said, call

GOVERNMENT'S PROBLEMS TO BE DISCUSSED

WAR DEBTS WILL BE CONSIDERED AT MEETING

BY W. B. RAGSDALE (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Albany, Nov. 14. (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt tonight agreed to visit President Hoover at the White House for a "wholly informal and personal" meeting at which the two could go over "the entire situation."

In his message to the chief executive accepting the invitation of Mr. Hoover to come to Washington for a conference, the president-elect said, however, that "the immediate question raised by the British, French and other notes creates a responsibility which rests upon those now vested with executive and legislative authority."

No Date Set

Mr. Roosevelt reminded the president of the forthcoming conference the president-elect has arranged to hold at Warm Springs with various congressional leaders and said it would be very helpful if he had the views of Mr. Hoover and "all pertinent information when I meet with them."

No date was set for the conference, Mr. Roosevelt relating to the president that he had been confined to the house with a slight cold for the last several days.

"I shall call you on the telephone as soon as the time of my departure for the south has been determined," the message said.

Mr. Roosevelt said that he would be glad to cooperate in every appropriate way with the outgoing chief executive on all matters affecting the welfare of the country. "Subject of course, to the requirements of my present duties as governor of this state."

"May I take the liberty of suggesting that we make this meeting wholly informal and personal," he added. "You and I can go over the whole situation."

The telegram follows: "The President, "Pratt, Kansas.

"I appreciate your cordial telegram. On the subjects to which you refer, as in all matters relating to the welfare of the country, I am glad to cooperate in every appropriate way, subject, of course, to the requirements of my present duties as governor of this state."

"I shall be delighted to confer with you in Washington, but I have been confined to the house with a slight cold and I am, therefore, not able to suggest a definite date. I shall call you on the telephone as soon as the time of my departure for the south has been determined."

"May I take the liberty of suggesting that we make this meeting wholly informal and personal. You and I can go over the entire situation."

"I had already arranged to meet a number of the Democratic leaders of the present congress late this month at Warm Springs. It will be helpful for me to have your views and all pertinent information when I meet with them. I hope that you also will see them at the earliest opportunity, because, in the last analysis, the immediate question raised by the British, French and other notes creates a responsibility which rests upon those now vested with executive and legislative authority."

"My kindest regards, "FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

The message replied to one sent yesterday by Mr. Hoover in which the president pointed out to Mr. Roosevelt that several nations had asked that the payment of their war debt payments due next month be deferred until a conference could be held to survey the debt question. The president also related that the disarmament conference would be held soon, and that a world economic conference was pending. These problems, Mr. Hoover said, could not be settled during the tenure of the present administration.

SEAWAY PLANS ARE OPPOSED

Railroads Claim Treaty Should Not Be Ratified

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Washington, Nov. 14 (AP)—Ratification of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty with Canada was opposed before a senate foreign relations subcommittee today by representatives of railroads and New York state interests who said the project was economically unsound.

They appeared as witnesses at the opening of the committee's hearings on the treaty calling for joint participation by the United States and Canada in a waterway and power project on the St. Lawrence, estimated officials to cost more than half a billion dollars. The treaty was signed last July after years of negotiation.

Three opponents of the project, the attack on the treaty. They were Alfred P. Thom, general counsel of the Association of Railway Executives; E. P. Goodrich, consulting engineer representing the Albany Port District Commission; and Peter G. Ten Eyck, president of the New York State Waterways Association. All contended that the cost of the project together with essential complementary developments would be far more than estimated; that it would not produce the savings proponents claim; and that it would prove an uneconomical proposition that would burden American taxpayers.

Claim Too Expensive
Thom contended the project would constitute government subsidized waterway which would offer unfair and unjustified competition for railroads. He argued that the project was not necessary or economically sound.

The capital cost to this country was placed by Thom at $421,045,000 instead of the $272,453,000 estimated by the joint board of engineers.

Thom also said the project would result in "unjustifiable injury to the railroads" and would cost in interest, maintenance and operation charges enough to haul free on the railroads all the grain that would move through it.

Goodrich estimated the cost of the waterway and allied projects at $1,054,167,000 and recommended that the all-American route be thoroughly surveyed before this country agrees to go ahead with the St. Lawrence development.

The engineer testified that under the treaty America would invest $42,000,000 in Canadian power plants without compensation which would make it possible for Canada to produce power on a commercial basis while the United States could not.

Ten Eyck's estimate of the cost was $1,350,000,000. He said it would be "ridiculous" for the United States to spend so much to help construct a route "as a rival to an existing all-American route wholly within the U. S. States."

Marcellus H. Tracy, representing the New York State Chamber of Commerce, and Reinald G. Narvick, spokesman for the Seaboard Great Lakes corporation, the New York Boat Owners Association, and the Canal Executive Committee of New York City also opposed the treaty in brief testimony.

GOVERNMENT'S PROBLEMS TO BE DISCUSSED

He added that he felt that the outgoing and incoming chief executives should talk over their views with regard to handling them.

No Precedent
Never before in history has there been held a joint conference of the leaders of the two opposing parties, one about to take office and the other about to step out.

Mr. Roosevelt's answer was mapped out at the executive mansion and dispatched to the president aboard the latter's train at Pratt, Kansas.

The president-elect has spent the last three days in the executive mansion, much of the time confined to his bed with a cold. His cold had virtually disappeared today and he was able to go down stairs to his study and to hold numerous telephone conferences with advisers.

The date for his departure for Warm Springs had tentatively been set previously for either Nov. 20 or 21. Whether it will be deferred beyond that date is not certain.

Mr. Roosevelt will resume his work on the state budget tomorrow.

55,000 Hunters To Seek Deer This Year
Lansing, Mich., Nov. 14 (AP)—More than 55,000 hunters are expected to journey to the north woods of the state this week with the deer season opening tomorrow.

George Hogarth, state conservation director, said a slight increase has been shown in the sale of licenses this year over 1931 when more than 55,000 were distributed. The cost of the license is $2.50, the same as last year. Hogarth also reported a plentiful deer population.

Hunters will be benefited by a heavy snowfall reported throughout the upper peninsula and the northern part of Lower Michigan. The season will continue for fifteen days.

against which the United States should buttress itself. The administration's attitude was that the United States had done all that it could to help Europe and that the nations of the continent must do something for themselves by stabilizing their currency, settling the squabbles over armaments and ending their tariff controversies.

Debtors Calve
As the month passed President Hoover and his advisers came to the belief that further help for Europe lay in the debt countries convincing, not only the leaders of congress and the government, but the American people as well that they had made a real effort to set their affairs in order. In other words the heads of the government felt that the decision lay with the people possibly to be expressed in the then approaching presidential campaign.

Early in July, the debt nations, meeting at Lausanne, agreed to a big reduction in German reparations payments, but by a gentlemen's agreement, made this contingent upon a revision of the debts they owed to America. A few days later, Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, accepted as a spokesman for the administration, told the senate:

"I think we had better sit quietly, rest on the position we have already taken, which is that beyond the possibility of mistake of understanding of anyone, and expect our debtors to meet their engagements as I believe they will do."

In his letter of invitation to Governor Roosevelt, Mr. Hoover reiterated his stand against cancellation and added:

"X x x We should be receptive to proposals from our debtors of tangible compensation in other forms than direct payments in expansion of markets for the products of our labor and our farms. And I have stated further that substantial reduction of armaments, which will relieve our own and world burdens and dangers has a bearing upon this question."

If it should be decided that some concession to Europe might be advisable the next step probably would be measurement of European reforms of the last year to determine how much, if any, American interests had been enabled to realize.

Oppose Cancellation
Paralleling the debt situation, the president pointed out, are the present disarmament discussions and the coming world economic conference.

Mr. Roosevelt was elected on a platform declaring: "We oppose cancellation of the debts owing to the United States by foreign nations." In a campaign address in interpreting this plank, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"This problem of the debts is complex. Its solution has, however, been brought nearer by the recent results at Lausanne. Great Britain, France and Germany, have at last agreed among themselves concerning reparations. The danger now is that they may turn a united front against us. This comes, I am convinced, not so much from the debts they owe us, as from our barriers against their trade which make the problem so difficult. The debts will not be a problem—we shall not have to cancel them—if we are realistic about providing ways in which payment is possible through the rehabilitation of trade."

Statements made today and previously by members of the house and senate showed three predominant attitudes—some willing to re-examine the debt situation, others sternly opposed to reduction or cancellation and a third view that concessions on the debts should be accompanied by European concessions on other subjects.

Let Them Owe Us
It was Chairman Collier (D-Miss.) of the house ways and means committee, who today spoke of the possibility of default. Any legislation regarding the debts must originate in his committee. A year ago he was one of those urging approval of the moratorium, but then, as today, he opposed reduction or cancellation. Today he said:

"If the debtors nations can't pay let them owe us."

Senator Fess of Ohio, Republican whip, was for an international conference looking to "readjustments," but against any negotiations pointed toward cancellation.

Representative Burns of Tennessee, an influential Democrat, was against any extension of the moratorium. Representative Rankin, a Mississippi Democrat, who opposed the moratorium, said:

"President Hoover and his international banker advisers seem to be trying to rush this matter, hoping to get a lame duck congress to betray the American people by cancelling or reducing these war debts."

Senator Copeland (D., N. Y.), expressed the view that Roosevelt should not accept President Hoover's invitation for a conference on the war debt problem.

"I don't think President Hoover should come down here," he said. "He hasn't had the opportunity to study the question and shouldn't be called upon to deal with it on the spur of the moment."

Senator Ashurst (D., Arizona) said he was opposed to cancellation or extension of the moratorium.

MAY DROP CASE AGAINST LIBBY

Solicitor Will Announce His Decision Today At Winston Salem

Winston Salem, N. C., Nov. 14 (AP)—Libby Holman Reynolds may be freed tomorrow of the murder charge that has hung over her since shortly after her husband's death. Smith Reynolds, who was fatally shot here last July.

Solicitor Carlisle Higgins said today he would probably decide within 24 hours whether to drop the case against the former Broadway blues singer and her 19-year-old co-defendant, Albert (Ab) Walker. Winston-Salem youth who was a chum of young Reynolds.

Refusing to forecast his probable decision, the solicitor did indicate, however, that the state will not seek an early trial in the event the case is not thrown out of court.

"I think I shall decide either to not prosecute the case, or to ask a continuance tomorrow," he said.

No date for a trial has ever been set.

Blood relatives of young Reynolds publicly suspected dropping of the case in a letter to the solicitor a month ago.

The solicitor said his decision would be announced in open court.

But whether it means freedom for her or the ordeal of a murder trial, the actress will not be in court to witness this next act in the real-life tragedy that began when her husband was shot in a hotel room in Winston-Salem seven months ago.

Benet Polkoff, of her counsel, said Mrs. Reynolds was not here and would not be here for the solicitor's announcement.

Although his client has been quoted as saying she was eager for a trial and complete vindication for the sake of the baby she expects next spring, Polkoff indicated an order of not pros would be acceptable to the defense.

A not pros would have the effect of restoring the status of the defendants before they were indicted August 1.

It is also within the province of the solicitor to take a toll pros with leave, which would enable him to restore the case to the docket at any time, without new indictments.

F. F. Davis Selected As Welfare Officer
At an adjourned meeting of the city council held last night, F. F. Davis, 1412 South Tenth avenue, was appointed welfare officer to fill the vacancy caused by the sudden death of L. A. Erickson. Mr. Davis was formerly timber buyer for the Erickson-Bissell lumber company.

Mr. Davis will also do Delta county relief work, thereby cutting relief costs by avoiding duplication of services.

U. S. S. Escanaba To Be Tried Wednesday
Bay City, Mich., Nov. 14 (AP)—Just completed in a shipyard here, the coast guard vessel U. S. S. Escanaba will be given her official trials Wednesday.

Supreme Court To Take Week Recess
Washington, Nov. 14 (AP)—The supreme court today passed its last word in three cases and announced it would take a week's recess to prepare opinions in a number of others.

The justices also dismissed three cases, refused to review 15 and agreed to study five. Then they said the court would recess from next Monday until December 5.

The cases involved matters of more or less local or regional interest.

Await Reaction
Late in the day, Secretary Mills said that action taken by the United States, whatever it eventually is, rests largely with the Democratic house of representatives.

He added there had been no suggestion in the notes received from Great Britain and France that they would not pay the installments due on December 15, but that they had asked for a conference to consider adjustment of the debt question.

Earlier, it was explained at the state department that there had been no change in the administration attitude that each foreign power should discuss its obligations to the United States as separate from those of other nations.

Consequently there was no disposition to regard a general conference of the debt powers as imminent.

Members of the diplomatic corps awaited America's reaction to the British and French notes with keen interest. But not a single foreign representative called at the state department today.

Great care is being exercised to avoid the implication that Europe debtors are joined in a mass movement for reconsideration.

Italy and Belgium are expected to follow the lead of France and Great Britain very shortly. Poland is also reported to be preparing for a similar step. But these countries with lesser obligations are apparently holding back until they can measure the reception the British and French overtures evoke.

for $23,000,000 of which $10,000,000 is for debt charges, leaving a net tax of 3.35 mills. School budgets for the entire state, he said, call for $5,000,000 which with a debt charge deduction of $21,000,000 amounts to a 6.35 mills tax.

Townships are taxed $4,200,000 with a $200,000 deduction for debt charges, leaving a net tax of 0.57 mills. Cities, he said, levy $85,000,000 in taxes and villages $6,500,000. In both instances, he pointed out, there are substantial deductions but he contends that the major part of his levy is otherwise protected by the exemption for amounts permissible under city charters.

One effect that Smith sees is prohibition of an income tax. The property tax limits applied by the amendment, he explained, are "for all purposes," and under various court rulings, he said, the income of property which has been taxed could not be taxed again without conflicting with the constitutional provision against double taxation.

DIVERT FLOW OF COLORADO RIVER

3,500 Men Employed in Hoover Dam Project At Boulder City

Boulder City, Nev., Nov. 14 (AP)—Diversion of the Colorado river was completed today, with $27,000,000 spent thus far on the $165,000,000 Hoover dam project.

The full flow of the stream was sent through the two Arizona diversion tunnels after the completion of a rock fill barrier. It was accomplished in less than 24 hours after the Sunday noon blast of 150,000 pounds of dynamite that signaled the river was about to give up a portion of its bed and dive underground.

Two days will be required to pump out the still water between two temporary dams at the inlet and outlet of the diversion tunnels, so the bed may be laid nearly a mile to permit excavation.

With work more than a year ahead of schedule, it is now expected filling of the reservoir will be started in July, 1935, and initial power generated by September 1, 1935.

Thirty five hundred men are engaged in construction work.

It is now expected the project, which will provide flood control, irrigation, hydroelectric power, and reclamation for vast areas, as well as future water supply for southern California cities, will be completed by the end of 1937 instead of 1938 as originally scheduled.

ARMED REVOLT IN HONDURAS

Defeated in Election, Liberals Launch Uprising

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Nov. 14 (AP)—Two weeks after the presidential election the government of Honduras was confronted today by an armed revolt. Heavy fighting was reported along the north coast.

During the night insurgent liberals, who lost out on the election, captured the city of San Pedro, which was being stormed today by federal troops assisted by nationalists.

The liberals were reported to have seized the towns of Trujillo, La Ceiba and La Esperanza.

It was reported that rebel troops were in the field in the southern district also and federal forces were hurried to Comayagua, in anticipation of an attack.

Reports were received that William Coleman was one of the leaders in the rebellion and that he was killed as federal troops under Generals Flores, Rosales and Guy Maloney stormed San Pedro. Fighting also was reported at Puerto Cortes but there were no details.

In the Honduran election October 30 General Tiburcio Carías Andino, the nationalist-conservative candidate, won over Angel Zuniga Tuete, the liberal nominee. The inauguration has not yet taken place and President Mejia Colindres remains as the head of the government. The president and the president-elect are political allies.

Nun, Six Convent Students Killed

Bogota, Colombia, Nov. 14 (AP)—A nun and six girl convent students were killed today when a motor truck in which they were returning from school overturned on a mountain road.

The nun was Margarita Maria Arosemena, 40, sister of former President Florencio H. Arosemena of Panama. Four other students were seriously injured.

RESUME HEARINGS
Lansing, Mich., Nov. 14 (AP)—The commission of inquiry into state governmental costs resumed its hearings today after a recess of three weeks. Members are expected to remain here this week before taking another recess.

by a prominent figure in the Democratic party in Michigan, predicted that public drinking places would not be contented in Michigan even should national prohibition laws be so modified as to legalize alcoholic beverages. He forecast installation of the Ontario liquor control system under which neither beer, spirits nor wine may be consumed on the premises.

"I have no sympathy for the brewers and the distillers," he said. "They forced prohibition upon the country. By their disregard for public opinion and by their opposition to methods proposed for adequate control they made this state dry. For that reason they should have no voice in the drafting of new legislation designed to control liquor in Michigan, and they will not have any choice in the matter."

Real estate men said today that options had been obtained on several choice corner locations by men who believed beer sales soon would be legalized. One stock issue in a brewing concern also was announced.

INVOKE PACTS FOR SECURITY, FRANCE URGES

The claim for equality of rights has been put forward, while it does not recognize the force of the legal arguments, on which this claim is based, and while it persists in the belief that any solution involving rearmament would be unacceptable as being contrary to the very purpose of the conference, it has never denied that the problem was among the political problems brought up before the conference.

The French delegation has every confidence that its proposal would permit of an equitable solution of this problem in the interests of general peace by the progressive equalization of the military status of the various countries and by an equal participation in the burdens and advantages of the organization of common action, all question of rearmament being ruled out.

Yokohama Landslide Claims Three Lives

Tokyo, Tuesday, Nov. 15 (AP)—Three deaths in a Yokohama landslide and scores of injuries in Yokohama, Tokyo and Numazu were the toll known casualties. This forenoon from a typhoon which has raged along the Japanese coast although possible losses of fishing boats may increase the death toll.

The typhoon, the severest since 1917, struck Hondo, the main Japanese island, near Numazu after lashing the Loochoo islands. Communications were being slowly restored. Messages indicated widespread damage around Tokyo in a radius of 100 miles. Telephone and telegraph wires were down. Several towns spent the night in darkness.

Railroads were resuming badly crippled service.

The landslide at Yokohama buried 30 houses. At Suzukawa, north-west of Numazu, 500 houses were destroyed by fire fanned by strong winds.

TURNER BREAKS SPEED RECORD

Flies Across Nation in 12 Hours and 33 Minutes

Garbank, Calif., Nov. 14 (AP)—Breaking the transcontinental east-west speed record by two hours and seventeen minutes, Joseph Turner set his airplane down at the United Airport at 4:17 p. m., Pacific Standard Time today, 12 hours and 33 minutes after take-off.

Turner abandoned tentative plans for an about-face in an effort to establish a new round trip record between Los Angeles and New York, explaining it would be necessary to do some work on his ship.

The previous New York-Los Angeles speed record of 14 hours, 50 minutes, was set by Frank Hawks on Aug. 6, 1930.

Turner said he averaged 199.2 miles an hour against a strong headwind the entire distance. He left New York at 7:40 a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Turner took off from here at 2:34 a. m., last Saturday in an effort to set a new round trip speed record between New York and Los Angeles, but damage to his landing gear in setting the ship down at Columbus, Ohio, forced him to abandon the attempt.

Six Oklahoma Banks Close Their Doors

Oklahoma City, Nov. 14 (AP)—Six banks, four national and two state, of a chain of 28 headed by H. T. Douglas of Shawnee, closed their doors today.

W. J. Barnett, bank commissioner, said directors decided to close the institutions after Douglas was unable to collateralize approximately $1,250,000 in loans upon demand of the Chase National bank of New York and other eastern creditors.

State banks at Maud and Asher will be reopened soon under a moratorium, Barnett said.

Banks closed are:

Shawnee National of Shawnee, $20,000 capital and $250,000 deposits.

Park National of Sulphur, $25,000 capital and $185,000 deposits.

First National of Allen, $25,000 capital and $100,000 deposits.

First National of McCloud, $25,000 capital and $125,000 deposits.

Maud State of Maud, $25,000 capital and $350,000 deposits.

Canadian Valley State of Asher, $25,000 capital and $150,000 deposits.

Schaffer Pupils Have Teeth Pulled

Continuing a series of dental extraction clinics to be held in various schools of the county by the Children's Fund of Michigan dental clinic, 29 Schaffer school children received this attention Monday afternoon. Only children with teeth requiring immediate extraction but whose parents are unable to pay for dental care are eligible for treatment at these clinics.

Every child in the group of 20 required at least on extraction.

Dr. H. L. Miller of the Children's Fund staff stated. A number of the children examined were found to have so many teeth requiring extraction that it was not desirable to remove these all at one time. Arrangements will be made for a second clinic at the school or the entire dental unit may be moved to Schaffer some time later in the school year.

Principal James A. Kenny of the Schaffer school and E. L. Daigneault, supervisor of Bark River township were in charge of local arrangements for the clinic.

MORRIS TALKS ON RAILROADS

Governmental Interference Unsound, Reactionaries Told

"As an indication of the situation in which American railroads find themselves today reference may be had to the fact that their net operating earnings in the first nine months of this year were $186,000,000 less than was required to pay their interest charges during that period," said C. D. Morris of Chicago, in an address before the Rotary Club here yesterday. Continuing Mr. Morris, who represents the Western Railways' Committee on Public Relations said: "In the year 1931 the aggregate interest on funded and unfunded debt paid by Class I railroads totaled $518,000,000 and it is likely to be more, rather than less, this year. In the first nine months of this year the net operating earnings of the roads aggregated $202,456,126. If interest charges are approximately the same as last year there will be a deficit of $186,000,000 after interest is paid at the end of nine months, which deficit will be materially increased before the end of 1932.

Bankruptcy Threatened
"With this condition obtaining it is obvious to all that the entire rail system of the nation is threatened with bankruptcy. No thoughtful man can contemplate this situation with equanimity. With the rails in bankruptcy the banks and insurance companies of the nation would be threatened, while millions of stock and bond holders would see the savings of a lifetime wiped out. Confidence and credit, now gradually reappearing, would immediately disappear again and almost universal chaos would characterize the financial situation. There is no other industry the collapse of which would occasion such widespread disaster. It is because of these facts that far-seeing railroad men and financiers are appealing to the American people to give the railroads a fair chance to prevent such a catastrophe."

"The railroads of this country are not in the habit of preaching calamity. On the other hand they have always been optimistic with respect to the future of this country. For years they have been pointing to the probabilities of just such a condition as confronts them today, but the nation has turned a deaf ear to their warnings. Yet, in the very face of this experience, they are optimistic with respect to the future and feel sure that, if we will but change our proverbial policy in our treatment of them, they will be able to come back with the passing of the depression in business. Retaining business activity, however, will not alone be sufficient. It can only help toward the desired end. A change of policy will be absolutely necessary if the carriers are to be permanently benefited.

Railroads Handicapped
"By a change of policy in our treatment of the railroads is meant that their competitors be placed upon an economic equality with them and that the interpretation of the transportation law be such as to afford the railroads some degree of freedom in meeting competition. Under present regulation the roads are bound hand and foot, when it comes to competing for transcontinental traffic, thus giving to the Panama Canal an undue advantage, while short-haul traffic is taken from them by reason of government subsidization of their competitors. The railroads build and maintain their own roadways and pay taxes on the value thereof. A roadway is furnished for the commercial motor vehicle which it uses without adequate rental charge and with little or no regulation by the government. Equality of these conditions and it is believed the superior service furnished by the railroads will bring millions of tons of traffic back to them."

Policy Unsound
"Experience has definitely proven that governmental interference in private business affairs is economically unsound as well as costly, both to the government and to business. One need look no farther than to the result of its experiments in the transportation industry and agriculture. The sooner it gets out of both the better it will be for all concerned. Its experiments in these two industries have cost billions of dollars, thereby placing a burden of taxation, not only upon the taxpayers of today but upon generations yet unborn, and for which it will never be possible to find an adequate excuse. The discontinuance of these practices is necessary if our government is to be maintained as it was intended by the Fathers that it should be. Let all business and industry be sustained by private capital and private initiative and most of our present economic disturbances will disappear. Under such a system the railroads will be able to solve their own problems to the credit of themselves and that of the nation."

Osborn Is Dean

Sault Ste. Marie—The defeat of Rep. Charles Culver of Detroit in Tuesday's election leaves Henry A. Osborn of Chippewa county the oldest representative in the Michigan legislature from point of service.

Mr. Culver had served eight terms and Mr. Osborn six. Of the ways and means committee, of which Mr. Osborn was a member for the last several years, only three members were re-elected Tuesday. The committee consists of nine men. The three who were re-elected were: Mr. Osborn; Gus Hartman of Houghton; and Dexter Lookie of Kent county.

Jail All Empty; No Liquor Cases

For the first time in more than ten years, the Delta county jail was without a prisoner Sunday. Yesterday, there was one lone boarder for dinner, but he was booked in as a "vagrant" and couldn't be classed as a regular prisoner.

The local jail has held no prohibition law violators for several weeks now, and the only liquor violation cases scheduled to come up in the January term of circuit court so far are cases which have been continued from previous terms. In the absence of any instructions to the contrary, enforcement of the prohibition law is continuing here the same as in the past. Although the vote of the people last Tuesday was for repeal of the state constitutional amendment, authorities point out that the liquor law passed by the legislature is still on the statute books and action must first be taken by the legislature to remove it.

Among the relatives who have arrived for the last rites are: Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Van Stetum, Ironwood; B. J. Goodman, Chicago; Attorney John Degnan, South Bend, Ind.

THEATRES

Greta Garbo, John Barrymore, Joan Crawford, Wallace Beery, Lionel Barrymore, Lewis Stone, Jean Hersholt.

What magic those names have wrought in the picture world of Viki Baum's sensational novel and play, "Grand Hotel," unraveled yesterday at the Delft Theatre.

Here is a picture that will make history. Not only at the box office where its appeal is obvious. But as a picture upon which the screen may step forward to a new era of artistry and worthiness.

Of course, the central characters, played by such seasoned experts, bring into the story characterizations profoundly impressive. It is probable that no other dramatic piece, on stage or screen, has been so admirably acted. Edmund Goulding in directing the Baum story, combined the theatre play with the novel and the results prove he took the best of each for his camera material.

As in book and play, the hotel itself is the outstanding character, taking its place in story interest as importantly as any of the human players. The settings are wondrously executed and the photography is equally noteworthy.

About 1600 Miles On Snow Removal Schedule In U. P.

The first heavy snowfall of the season, which came yesterday, was the signal for county road commissions and street departments to get in readiness for the winter's snow removal program.

No plows were pressed into service yesterday as automobiles were able to move along without any serious impediment, although slippery pavements made traveling quite hazardous.

J. T. Sharpsteen, division highway engineer, stated yesterday that he expected the state would be plowing about the same mileage of trunk line highways this coming winter. Last year, about 1600 miles were on the snow removal program in the upper peninsula.

Harry Taylor Dies

Marquette—The Chicago Tribune a few days ago had a lengthy article relative to the death of Harry Taylor of New York City, a prominent and wealthy business man, who died in Chicago of a heart attack, while in the city upon business. He was frequently summoned to the White House during coal controversies to assist in adjusting situations.

His death is of interest locally as his second wife was Delzima Desmarais, sister of Alex Desmarais, formerly of Marquette, and a cousin of Dr. A. T. Nadeau. They adopted a daughter, Barbara Taylor, who frequently visits here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Audit, Logan avenue, as she has made her home with the Desmarais in Chicago since the remarriage of her foster father.

Sheriff Escapes Injury

Sault Ste. Marie—Sheriff John McKee escaped injury yesterday afternoon in an accident four miles south of Roscommon. His car as well as the car with which he collided, was heavily damaged. The crash was caused by skidding on slippery pavement. Sheriff McKee was thrown out of the car and landed in a sandbank 20 feet from where the car came to rest.

Hunter Arrested

Iron Mountain—While hundreds of hunters were either trekking into the woods today, or preparing to, for the opening of deer season Tuesday, November 15, Gilbert Hammond, giving his residence as Escanaba, was trying this morning to explain to Judge James R. Spencer in municipal court how come a nice fat buck that was found in his possession yesterday in Breen township.

Hammond was picked up by L. C. Brown, deputy conservation officer, and was ordered to appear this morning. Unable to give a satisfactory account regarding the buck, he was assessed $59.50 fine and costs, or the alternative of 30 days in jail. Up to noon today he had been unable to raise the money.

The buck was brought to the city for evidence and, according to the practice in past years, will probably be turned over to the county infirmary.

Osborn Honored

Sault Ste. Marie—Notification has been received by Chase S. Osborn, who has returned to this city preparatory to departure for his winter lodge in Georgia, that he has had the unusual honor of being elected to American Men of Science, and is listed in the latest edition of the encyclopedia of such scientists.

Only 800 men of science are listed in this "American Men of Science" and Mr. Osborn considers it to be one of the greatest of the honors that have been accorded him.

Finger Amputated In Mill Accident

Richard Bartlett, 26, of Treenary, employee of the Cleereman Land and Lumber company, suffered the loss of the little finger of the right hand, when he caught it in a saw while at work. Bartlett was treated at the St. Francis hospital and returned to his home Monday. The accident is the second in the family within a short space of the time, the young man's step-father losing his life in an accident at the mill six weeks ago.

They've Never Tasted a Tonic!

THESE are not patent medicine children. Their appetite needs no coaxing. Their tongues are never coated, cheeks never pale. And their bowels move just like clockwork, because they have never been given a habit-forming laxative.

You can have children like this—and be as healthy yourself—if you follow the advice of a famous family physician. Stimulate the vital organs. The strongest of them need help at times. If they don't get it, they grow sluggish. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin is a mild, safe stimulant.

When a youngster doesn't do well at school, it may be the liver that's lazy. Often the bowels hold enough poisonous waste to dull the senses! A spoonful of delicious syrup pepsin once or twice a week will avoid all this. It contains fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin, and does a world of good to any system—young or old. You can always get this fine prescription preparation at any drug store. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and protect your family from those bilious days, frequent sick spells and colds. Keep a bottle in the medicine chest instead of cathartics that so often bring on chronic constipation. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin can always be employed to give clogged bowels a thorough cleansing, with none of that painful griping, or burning feeling afterward. It isn't expensive.

Unusual Weather For Deer Hunting

The opening of the hunting season is marked with very unusual weather conditions in Alger county. The fall of snow starting last Thursday has steadily increased without intermission, sometimes attaining the proportions of a mid-winter storm. As a consequence roads are hard to travel and the county road crew is busily engaged in keeping the highways open to traffic. Many red capped and red coated hunters have already made their appearance in Munising, the heart of the big game country. Several accidents have happened to drivers, who have been ditched alongside of snow-covered roads, but none of serious nature. This year the hunters lucky enough to bag a buck will find that it is only a small one. Hunting conditions are not good at present, on account of the heavy fall of snow for the deer do not move about during a snowfall and even if they did it would be hard to follow tracks that are immediately covered. At least, partially covered. As soon as the weather clears up here will be fine tracking snow and the mighty drive will be on.

MUNISING BRIDES

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carmody of Grand Rapids, Mich., arrived yesterday on a visit to Mr. Carmody's parents.

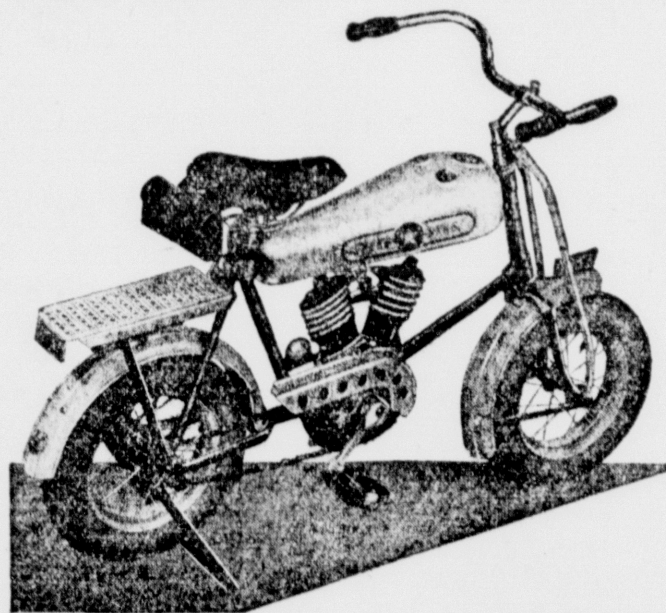

Mrs. Ella Whitmore is back from a visit with relatives at Detroit and Bay City.

Mrs. W. H. Monsson returned home Sunday from Madison, Wis. Former Mayor Thos. G. Sullivan is proud to announce that he is a great-grandfather, a son having been born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Oaks of Quincy, Ill., recently. Information received in a letter by Mr. Sullivan. Mr. and Mrs. Oaks are well known here, frequently coming to Munising to visit the Sullivans.

A number of friends tendered a surprise birthday party on Mrs. John A. Korpels Thursday evening at her home in the west end. The evening was spent in playing bridge and cribbage. A pot luck lunch was served. Mrs. Korpela was presented with a very nice gift.

AMNESTY AND PARDON

ANNOUNCEMENT by Governor-Elect William A. Comstock that, if it can be done legally, he will pardon all persons serving terms in prison for violation of the state prohibition laws, has also aroused discussion as to possible amnesty and pardon by the President for offenders against federal enforcement statutes in case the Volstead act is modified and the Eighteenth amendment is repealed.

The Constitution gives the president "power to grant reprieves and pardons for offenses against the United States, except in cases of impeachment." Under this authority, Washington and Adams issued general proclamations of pardon to those who had engaged in the Whisky Insurrection in Pennsylvania, unless they had been actually convicted or indicated of offenses against the federal laws.

During and after the Civil War, Lincoln and Johnson issued proclamations of pardon to those who had engaged in defying the authority of the United States, with lists of exceptions which diminished in each successive proclamation. Benjamin Harrison and Cleveland issued proclamations of amnesty and pardon to those liable to the penalties of the federal anti-polygamy laws, provided that they no longer disobeyed them. After the World War Wilson pardoned many political offenders against the federal war-time legislation, but refused to issue a blanket proclamation of amnesty and pardon. Debs and the rest of political wartime offenders were pardoned during the Harding administration as individual cases.

Legally amnesty is granted without regard to the proof of guilt, whereas pardon is in the nature of forgiveness for guilt. Many legal authorities hold that Congress as well as the president has the power of granting amnesty. President Lincoln's pardon proclamations during the Civil War were issued after Congress on July 17, 1862, had passed a law containing authorization to the president to grant limited and conditional pardons to those in rebellion. Resolutions introduced in Congress after the World War regarding wartime political offenders merely recommended amnesty and pardon.

Most states vest the power of pardon in their governors, although in some of these states the recommendation or the concurrence of special pardon boards is necessary. Perhaps the most famous case of pardon by a state governor was the pardoning of three anarchists by Governor Altgeld of Illinois in 1893. They had been convicted of complicity in bomb-throwing at Haymarket Square, Chicago, and were freed by Altgeld on the ground that they were not guilty.

When Governor-Elect Comstock steps into office Jan. 1, there will be no unusually large number of prohibition violators still remaining in state prisons and county jails. During the last year, enforcement under the state laws by city and county authorities throughout Michigan has not been what may be called vigorous, the burden of this work having been left to federal prohibition officers. Those who have been convicted under the state dry laws have been given comparatively short terms, many of which will have expired by the time Comstock assumes the governorship.

HISTORY TURNS A CORNER

AS the election recedes farther and farther into the past, it becomes clear that what happened on Nov. 8 was nothing less than the end of an epoch in American history.

The post-war period, at last, may be said to be over. What future historians will call the eight or ten years that lie ahead of us is beyond guessing just now, but that 1932 will be some sort of dividing line for them seems assured.

Not only was a Democratic administration elected. The really significant thing about it all is that a full stop was put on the record of the course the country has taken since the war.

Smoot and Watson, joining the same ducks, stand as symbols of what happened.

These men are the Senate's last links with the famous "old guard" of bygone days. They connect the government with the day of Penrose and Lodge and Harding. Their departure signals the beginning of that much-talked-of and long-desired thing, "a new deal."

For the overturn in the election, indisputably, was chiefly due to the miseries the country had suffered during the past three years; and these, in turn, are all a part of the post-war epoch, bound up with the path the nation elected to follow in those trying years.

It has taken this nation longer than it has taken any other to revise its post-war course. England turned to Stanley Baldwin and then swung sharply away; France gave Poincare the helm and then dropped him; Germany swung in half a dozen different directions, and is now headed exactly opposite to the line charted in the first years of peace. Now America, too, finds that a new orientation is necessary.

What will happen now? Your guess is as good as the next man's. We can only be sure that it will be something different. A new day has begun. Whether it will be better or worse than the day just ended depends on the courage and wisdom of our new leaders. The one certain thing is that it will be different.

THE STRAIN OF OFFICE

THERE is something deeply human and appealing about President Hoover's remark that he had had, on the second night following the election, the best sleep he had had in weeks. It serves as a sharp reminder that a president fighting a losing fight for reelection has to pay for it in great physical weariness and deep agitation of the spirit.

We make symbols of our public men, in this land, and we usually forget that they are just as subject to the ills of the flesh as the rest of us. A worn-out, discouraged and uncertain president feels just as badly as a worn-out, discouraged and uncertain salesman; he tosses restlessly at night in bed, in just the same way, and his body pays the same kind of toll.

The past months have not been easy ones for President Hoover. His fellow countrymen join in a friendly wish that he gets the rest that he needs so badly.

THE RAILROADS

IT IS evident that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has no intention of carrying fixed railroad charges indefinitely. Appointment of a receiver for the Frisco road indicates that the government's lending agency is not going to hesitate to demand extensive reorganization of the roads' financial structures whenever that appears necessary.

It had been hoped, in recent weeks, that increases in railroad traffic would make extensive reorganizations of that kind unnecessary; and it is probably quite true that even a slight continuance of recent industrial gains would take most railroads out of the red.

Nevertheless, there are cases in which it is quite evident that a sizable slice of a railroad's business is gone forever; and in such cases, where the financial structure is such that operations can only be conducted at a loss, some sort of reorganization seems inevitable.

Week-end Murder

(By NEA Service)

BY GABRIELLE E. FORBUSH

STORY HERE TODAY

The story opens with a prologue in which a murder is committed by a homicidal maniac. Later he boards a train for Long Island, thinking of the pleasant week-end he is to have there. The name of the murderer is not disclosed.

The scene shifts to the Long Island home of LINDA and TOM AVERILL, married three years and much in love. Linda announces that instead of three guests over the week-end they are to have five. The guests will be: COUSIN AMOS PEABODY, elderly, distant relative of Linda's who was in New York on business and invited himself to visit the Averills; CAPTAIN DE AOS, handsome Belgian representing a European perfume manufacturer with whom Averill hopes to do business; MR. STATLANDER, middle-western manager of the firm Averill works for; MARVIN PRAIT, former suitor of Linda's whom she has not seen for several years; and LIAN SHAUGHNESSY, Irish writer on a lecture tour.

Immediately there is trouble. Cousin Amos grows angry at Linda, a faithful old watchdog. At dinner he quarrels with Shaughnessy and calls him a dangerous rebel for defending Gandhi's work in India. Both men show violent tempers.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER V

SURE in the knowledge that the new lavender sports frock was a triumph of sophisticated simplicity, that her mellow tan brought out bewitchingly the blue of her eyes and the bronze lights of her hair, and feeling decidedly refreshed by a good night's sleep, Linda stepped with lifting freshness down the broad polished stairs. The air was fragrant of fresh roasted coffee within the house and mingled flowers and sea from without. She hoped none of her guests was before her. She had arranged for trays for the two Europeans; the others had assured her they would descend for breakfast. At any rate, Tom was down to do the honors until she arrived.

At the bottom of the winding flight she suddenly saw her husband and his expression anti-climatic in a second her carefree morning mood. Before Linda knew how she got there she was beside him and had her hand on his arm.

"Tom—what is it? Bingo?" "No. Oh, no, honey—not the kid. Sorry I scared you!" "What has happened?"

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch

(Copyright 1932 by Douglas Malloch)

LIFE IS LIKE A STREAM

Life is like a stream we ride,
And, with all his power and pride,
Man will never turn its tide.

Yes, we ride the flowing years,
Raftsmen, pilots, gondoliers,
Each appears, and disappears.

Raftsmen, bearing burdens they,
Pilots pointing men the way,
Gondoliers who sing and play.

What a motley crowd we are!
Drifting to the harbor bar,
Often near, and never far.

Every day the miles decreased,
Yet, except the praying priest,
All with that concerned the least.

If we won't or if we will,
From the hollow, from the hill,
We are coming down to mill.

There the Miller waits to see
What we chose to bring, to be,
What are cargoes presently.

Some have brought Him honest grain,
Some a soul redeemed again,
Some have voyaged life in vain.

Some will cry, "O Miller, wait!
I'll return for better freight!"
He will sadly say, "Too late."

DEER SEASON OPENER IDEAL

Smaller Number of Lower Michigan Hunters Come North

A four-inch snowfall yesterday, with a forecast of only slight flurries and somewhat colder weather today, make conditions ideal for the opening of the annual two-week hunt for deer in the upper peninsula woods.

Sporting goods, clothing and grocery stores were quite busy yesterday supplying ammunition, foodstuffs, utensils and heavy wearing apparel to prospective hunters. Sunday and yesterday, a number of lower Michigan hunters, dressed up in the convention, at red caps and mackinaws, were seen on Escanaba's streets, their automobiles bedecked with huge bundles of camping equipment.

Reports from St. Ignace indicate that a smaller number of Lower Michigan residents are coming north in quest of deer this season. Upper peninsula citizens, many unemployed laborers, and also business men, with plenty of time on their hands, are reported to be planning hunting expeditions in increased numbers.

The hunting of deer began at the break of day this morning. Hunting regulations are unchanged this year.

Pre-season hunting has taken a toll of two lives already in the upper peninsula. Felix Gabrielson, 21, Ironwood, was shot near Gogebic station by his friend and hunting companion, Harold Hoberg, Friday. Gabrielson was stooping over a weasel trap when Hoberg fired from a distance of 125 feet. The bullet hit Gabrielson in the head and he died instantly. Joe Benard of Negaunee was killed in Sands township near Marquette by an unseen hunter early last week. Last year, nine hunters lost their lives in the upper peninsula.

County Farm Agents Weather Severe Tests in Budget Cuts

BY SAM B. MCCOOL.
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)
Agricultural extension has just emerged from one of the most severe tests ever encountered by this work in Michigan.

The test was the annual vote of acceptance or rejection of extension work by the county boards of supervisors throughout the state. Some sixty counties have decided to continue with extension projects, although returns are still incomplete.

Extension leaders at Michigan State college were cheered by the outcome of the supervisors' vote despite a reduction of more than $30,000 in the total appropriation for county agricultural agents. The overwhelming vote of confidence accorded the work by the supervisors when they were eliminating other governmental functions offset any appropriation cuts, they pointed out. Virtually every county faced demands for reduced budgets. State leaders had anticipated drastic cuts in the extension appropriations for this reason. Yet the final reduction was no greater, if as great, as in 1931.

Supervisors of five counties voted against continuing extension work. They were Ottawa, Mason, Bay, Clinton and Montcalm. Eaton supervisors, who discontinued the work last year, voted to continue it this year. Movements are under way in Clinton, Mason, and Bay counties to finance projects through civic methods.

All Keep 4-H Work
No county voted to discontinue 4-H club work. This type of extension was abolished in the Cheboygan-Ontonagon district earlier in the year when the state board of agriculture voted reduced revenues but the other ten counties on the list were retained in the club-agent column following the supervisors' meetings. These counties are Saginaw, Wayne, Chippewa, Genesee, Hillsdale, Calhoun, Oakland, Iron, Wash-tenaw, and Gogebic. State home demonstration leaders are unable to determine at this time just how many agents will be retained another year.

Only four counties increased their extension appropriations. They were Eaton, Cass, Osceola, and Tuscola. "We are pleased inasmuch as there was little disposition to kill extension work on the part of supervisors," Clinton V. Ballard, state leader said. "The reductions in the appropriations are in keeping with economy cuts this year."

$2,400 for Delta
Counties which have reported together with the amount available locally for extension work follow:

St. Clair, $1,100; Tuscola, $600; Van Buren, $1,500; La- peer, $1,500; Saginaw, $3,600; Kent, $3,000; Ontonagon $3,000; Muskegon, $4,450; Delta, $2,400; Schoolcraft, $2,170; Huron, $1,500; Chippewa, $5,420.

Cheboygan, $1,500; Charlevoix, $1,200; Baraga, $600; Wexford, $900; Jackson, $2,700; Osceola, $400; Ogemaw, $900; Clare, $200; Presque Isle, $1,350; Genesee, $3,560; Macomb, $3,000; Cass, $600; Alcona, $720; Me- costa, $900.

Missaukee, $500; Allegan, $700; Barry, $1,300; Arenac, $1,000; Hillsdale, $500; Branch, $1,450; Lake, $500; Calhoun, $2,300; Manistee, $1,800; Berrien, $3,600; Oakland, $3,000; Mid-land, $600; Newaygo, $1,800; Montmorency, $500; Kalamazoo, $3,000; Kalamazoo, $600; Eaton, $1,000.

Emmet, $1,550; Ingham, $2,000; Ionia, $200; Isabella, $200; Alpena, $2,100; Antrim, $650; Gladwin, $500; Washtenaw, $3,100; Wayne, $9,077; Monroe, $9,000; Benzie, $900; Dickson, $900; Houghton, $3,200; Menominee, $2,740; Marquette, $2,420.

Gogebic and Iron counties also approved extension work but state leaders have not been informed the amount of their appropriations.

TWO SERIOUSLY HURT IN CRASH

Snow-Covered Pavements Cause Number of Car Mishaps

Slippery pavements accounted for a number of automobile accidents Sunday and Monday, with a number of minor injuries, cars damaged, and two women in the hospital with severe injuries.

The most serious accident occurred at 6:30 p. m. Sunday when an automobile driven by Einar Andrews, 1913 Ludington, collided with a car driven by Gregory Puissant, 504 Ludington, on the Groos road between U.S. 2 and the paper mill. According to information given officers of the sheriff's department who investigated, the Puissant car, coming south, skidded sideways in front of the Andrews car, which was going north, and the crash was unavoidable.

Mrs. Andrews and little daughter were riding with Mr. Andrews. The former received lacerations about the forehead and chin, and the little girl was injured in the nose. Mrs. Jane Larche, 913 Washington avenue, who was riding with Mr. Puissant, suffered a comminuted fracture of the right leg bone near the hip, a fracture of the pelvis on the right side, fracture of the right clavicle or collar bone, and internal injuries. She was reported in serious condition last night at St. Francis hospital.

The injured women were taken to the hospital by E. J. Smith, 636 North 26th street, an employee of the paper mill.

Escanaba Youth To Circle World On "Two-Master"

A two year trip around the world on a two masted schooner is in prospect for Ned Buckbee of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cheever Buckbee, 512 Lake Shore Drive.

Ned, who has been in California since the Olympic games this summer, is sailing from San Pedro on Nov. 27, with Captain Wanderwell, who will travel around the world, taking travelogue pictures for the next two years, searching out interesting places of practically every country in the eastern hemisphere. The first stop is to be Honolulu where members of the party will be for Christmas.

Ned, in addition to his duties aboard the schooner, will spend four hours daily in the study of photography, navigation, radio and telegraphy.

Noted Kryn Band At Iron Mountain

The announcement is made by the Iron Mountain and Kingsford High School Music Departments that Kryn's famous Symphonic Band has been secured for three performances at Iron Mountain on November 25.

Kryn and his band has a unique reputation throughout the whole country. No organization has a higher reputation for the rendition of the great standards in music, and the name of Kryn has come to be synonymous with the best there is in the domain of high art.

The services of the band are in constant demand, in fact, its principal work being the giving of Festival celebrations in the larger cities of the country.

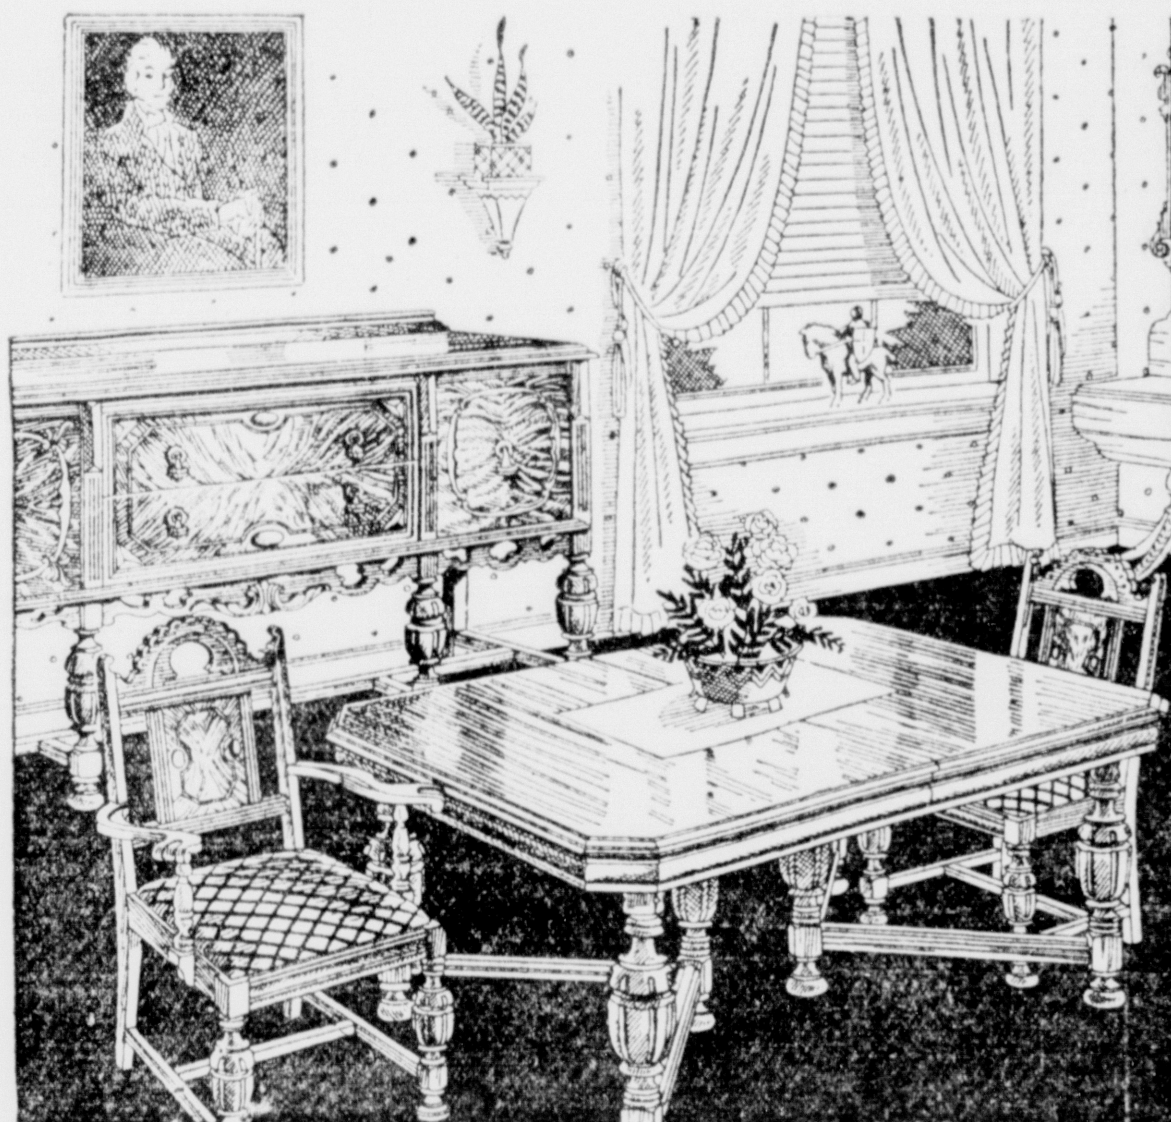

The Kryn Band is the result of many years of effort, of unceasing watchfulness to secure the best musicians in the world, of constant and tedious rehearsing, of tireless effort on the part of Kryn himself and by the determination of each individual member of the organization to give the best that is in him.

Each player is selected with as much care and consideration as are the several soloists who accompany the band, and every man must pass a rigid examination by Kryn himself, before he is accepted as a member of the band.

Barr's Dental
Health Increase
Leads in System

According to the October dental honor roll report released by the superintendent's office, the Barr school added more new names to their school dental honor roll than any other building in the system during the month. Thirty-five Barr school pupils had their names placed on the dental health list in October, making a total of 23 per cent of the entire school in good dental condition at the end of the second month of the present school year.

Miss Ella Bacon's third grade room with 55 per cent on the dental honor roll is the only class room at the Barr to have more than half of the class credited with dental O. K. Miss Alice Johnson's fifth grade is placed second with 39 per cent of the class on the dental honor roll.

The names of Barr school children added during the month are:

Miss Althea O'Connell's Kindergarten — Eleanor Tomkins, David Thorsen.

Miss Mildred Sourwine's first grade — Willard Hansen.

Miss Marie Raher's second grade — James Tomkins, Robert Hansen.

STUDIES FATHER'S HOMELAND

When Ella Rolvaag finishes a year of study at the University of Oslo, in Norway, she is coming back to America to find a position on some small newspaper in the west. Miss Rolvaag, who is the daughter of the late O. E. Rolvaag, the college professor who wrote "Giants of the Earth," is a graduate of St. Olaf's college, where she edited the St. Olaf Quarterly, a literary magazine. Because her famous father wanted her to go back to Norway and familiarize herself with his native land, visit the place where he was born, and note similarities and differences between America and Norway, she left recently on the year's pilgrimage alone.

Do not remove fat from soup stock until it is going to be used, as the fat forms a seal that keeps out air and prevents spoiling. If you wish to remove fat before stock is cool, pass a lump of ice over the top and it will draw the particles of fat to the surface.

Work in Appeal for Members

An appeal for membership in the American Red Cross has been mailed to every business firm in the city of Gladstone and to a large number of its citizens by the Delta County Chapter. The letter, signed by James T. Jones, vice chairman, and John M. Olson, treasurer, points out the work that the Red Cross has been doing locally and asks that liberal contribution be made to the organization.

The full text of the appeal follows:

"Gladstone has received or has in transit for distribution since our last Roll Call:

"Three car loads of flour,
"Two thousand yards of outing flannel and sheeting,
"Stockings, overalls, shirts,
"for 150 families.

"Has turned over several hundred dollars in cash to local welfare agencies.

"With such help coming from National and County Red Cross we can appeal to you to help the local organization continue the work so important to our needy and unemployed during the coming months. Renewal of your membership is requested at this time.

"Memberships are only one dollar each but we ask you to give as liberally as possible. Only fifty cents of your payment goes to national headquarters; the balance remains for local needs. If you will renew your membership and secure your Red Cross button at either bank it will help a cause so important at a time like the present.

"Your prompt response will encourage others and hasten the collection of funds for relief purposes."

The membership drive started on November 11 and will end on Nov. 24.

City Gets Ready
To Plow Snow

The heavy fall of snow Sunday and Monday turned the attention of city crews to the snow plowing problem and hurried preparation was made yesterday to get the equipment ready for clearing the streets and sidewalks. Trucks, which have been used in other street departments were equipped with plow equipment and were scheduled to start plowing at midnight last night.

City Manager F. R. Buehner stated yesterday that the opening of the streets after each snow storm required the plow equipment to travel approximately 60 miles. This includes streets and walk plowing.

Last year, records show, the street plowing equipment was used on only two occasions and the sidewalk plows were out only five times. It is also interesting that last year the first call for snow plowing did not come in Gladstone until February.

Miss Abby Nuttall returned Sunday evening from a week-end visit at her home in Neenah.

Former Local Man
To Manage Iron
River Penney Store

W. E. Hubert, at one time a resident of Gladstone, has been named manager of the J. C. Penney company store at Iron River, according to a story appearing in the Iron River Reporter. Mr. Hubert left here a number of years ago. The Iron River paper says:

"Waine Lehti will retire as manager of the J. C. Penney store here November 15, he declared yesterday. He will be succeeded by W. E. Hubert, of Biddeford, Maine.

Mr. Hubert is a native of the upper peninsula. He was born in Gladstone and received his first training with the Penney company in Ironwood. From there he was transferred to a managerial position at Biddeford and has remained there since that time.

He comes here highly recommended by the company."

Armistice Game
Receipts $477.63

Receipts from the Gladstone-Escanaba football game on Armistice Day totaled $477.63. It was announced yesterday by Principal C. C. Strickland. The total was made up by receipts as follows: reserved seats, $49.50; advance student ticket sale, $78.50; gate, $226.13; adult advance sale, $123.50.

The total was the least at an Armistice Day game for a number of years. It is reported. In 1930 the receipts were $746.66.

Principal Strickland stated that while the receipts were much less than anticipated, the sum was sufficient to wipe out the deficit created during the season and would leave a slight balance.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit, 15c, 50c and 60c.

GIVES TALK ON AIR CLEANINGRotarians Hear Interesting
Talk on Purifying
Air

J. H. Rowell, Hermansville, representative of an air conditioner manufacturing concern, yesterday told Rotary members of the advances that have been made during the past three years in providing clean air for homes, offices, factories and public buildings, in an address that was informative and educational.

Mr. Rowell declared that purifying of air through filtering, washing and humidifying would have a marked effect upon health betterment and that eventually all modern homes would be equipped with an air purifying device.

In the course of his talk, Mr. Rowell discussed the advantages and detailed the methods that are being used to provide clean air.

Dust in the air, he said, was a disease carrier and could be blamed for the spread of influenza during the World War. Air cleaning, it was explained, would remove 80 per cent of the dust by filtration and washing of the air would reduce the dust particles still further, the amount being taken out being 90 per cent by count.

Disease germs, he said, ride on the dust particles. When the dust is removed the germs, being heavier than the air, cannot remain suspended and must fall to the earth.

He warned against devices that were not scientifically constructed and made primarily to sell.

License Sale Small—Is Gladstone Report

The smallest army of licensed deer hunters ever to enter the woods in the Gladstone district was indicated yesterday afternoon when the total license sales reported by the local license agency was but 119. This is the low record for many years on the day preceding the opening of the season.

The few licenses are attributed to the depression and the attitude of many hunters that they will get their deer first and their license later, taking a chance that they won't be apprehended, by conservation officers. Many hunters are also taking advantage of a slip in the laws which permits carrying of rifles in the game area if a person has a small game license.

Conservation officers are warning hunters to secure licenses and taking their names. If they fail to secure the license arrests are to be made.

The heavy snowfall of the last few days has made hunting conditions ideal and the kill on the first day is expected to be large.

Sponsors Of Boy
Delegates Have Not Yet Reported

Few organizations have as yet advised school officials as to their desires to send boys to the Older Boys Conference at Escanaba. Principal C. C. Strickland states. This information must be transmitted, he states, not later than Wednesday of this week when the final registrations must be made.

Last year seven organizations sent eleven boys to the conference at Marquette and at least this many will likely be sent this year. The organizations sponsoring the attendance at the boys were the Rotary club (2), the Legion (2), First Lutheran church, Demolay chapter, Methodist church (2), Methodist Sunday School (2), and Boy Scouts.

Local Masons To

SOUTHPAWS IN
LEAD AT ELKSMaples Hit Hard During Past Week; Hunting
Stops Matches

Ben Hudson's Southpaws are found perched on top in the Elks League. These very same Southpaws continue to be one of the toughest aggregations to beat, and last season finished one-two in both sections.

The high average Paper Makers find themselves firmly entrenched in the cellar, which is a unique position for them to hold in the Elks League. They are out for blood during the remaining series of the season, and they are telling the world that its going to be tough sledding for their opponents for the balance of the year.

The maples took a terrific wallop during the past week, and a great number of unusually good averages were made. Tom Bolitho in his initial appearance for the year grabbed high average with 197. Others scoring marks in the 180 to 190 class were Graphos, Perry, Tony Bush, Schuster, and Jimmy Bolitho.

To Dan Perry goes the honor for high score with his 235 followed by Graphos with 232. Christenson and Kelly were others who had games in the 220 class.

This week there is a break in the schedule to permit those members of the league who are also handy with a rifle to lay up a little meat for the coming winter. The postponed series between the Giants and Creightons Cubs may be rolled off, otherwise the delays will be available for special matches, and will give others an opportunity to work in a little needed practice.

Commencing with the next series, this year's averages will be used in computing handicaps. This may be welcome news for some, and a tough break for others, but it will be good advantage during the past few years.

Husband Is Jailed
On Wife's Complaint

Emil Van Somple, 553 North 12th street, was sent to the county jail for 5 days by Justice A. D. Aiguire, yesterday, when he entered a plea of guilty to a drunk charge. Van Somple was arrested on complaint of his wife, who charged that he had over-indulged on Saturday night.

The arrest of Van Somple brought to an end a record of two and one-half months without an arrest in the city.

THEATRES

A dictaphone, and a business girl's perseverance are responsible for the development of a voice that the world loves to hear.

The voice belongs to Ann Harding, blonde star of RKO-Pathé's "Westward Passage," now showing at the Rialto Theatre, and it was not always the polished instrument of beauty that it is today. In fact, it was just an ordinary speaking voice when Miss Harding started work in a New York insurance office.

SOME FATHER!

Columbus, O.—There is a father in Columbus who lacks the proper paternal spirit. When Judge Pfeffer learned that Mrs. Catherine Richter was in the city, he immediately expected an admission to the family, he released his husband, who had been held in jail on a wife-slapping charge. An hour and a half after the Richter baby arrived, the father had not yet been seen at the hospital.

Today Last Chance
To Pay City Taxes

Today is the final date on which the payment of city taxes can be made free of the four per cent penalty. City taxes are usually due on September 15, but this year owing to depressing conditions, taxpayers were given two extensions of one month each.

It is definitely understood, however, that no further extension can be made by the council and all taxes paid after today will be subject to the penalty.

Tug, Dredge Forced To Return to Port
After Fighting Sea

After battling a high set for four hours Sunday morning, the Government Tug Manitowoc and the Kenosha, a dredge which has been working in the local harbor, were forced to return here in one of the worst storms on the great lakes this season.

The Manitowoc and Kenosha left here at 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning and after making but little progress, decided to return to Manistique, docking here at 1 p. m. They were bound for Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

The huge steamer Charles C. West, of the Reiss Co. company, left the local harbor about the same time as the Manitowoc and Kenosha, bound for Port Inland. The West had considerable difficulty in negotiating the turn in the harbor, having but 50-foot clearance.

Bobby Mead, Former Local Boy, Stars In Twin City Grid Tilt

Bobby Mead, son of Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Mead, former residents of this city, received a large share of the credit in the annual Twin City grid contest between Menominee and Marinette on Armistice Day which was won by the former 36-7. Mead, together with Hushek, Maroon's right halfback, were the big guns in the Menominee attack according to Stony McMillan, sport writer for the Milwaukee Sentinel. McMillan's account of Mead's work during the struggle is as follows:

"Big Ed Hushek bowled over and softened up an end and Bobby Mead aided him along and outfoxed him as Menominee defeated Marinette high here. Friday afternoon in this thirty-fifth renewal of their epic gridiron series, 36-7.

"The game was really all Menominee, for at no time did the Badger entry have a chance to get into the running after a march the length of the field gave the visitors the first score shortly after the game opened. This touchdown was followed a few minutes later by another and it was Ed and Bobby who provided most of the music for the touchdown parades.

"Ed was the field marshal, riding roughshod with boot and spur, while Bobby, smart little general, and runner he is, just put on a Houdini act that said, 'Here I am, come and get me, but here I go.'

"Lack of aggressiveness on the part of the Marinette tackles and ends was a potent factor in Mead's successful storming of the Marinette scoring citadel.

"That set the stage for the pride and joy of Doc Mead's family to do a little, high, wide, and handsome stepping, and the youngster broke through the line, reversed his field and outmaneuvered to register the first score of the game after a 26-yard dash. On an attempt to skirt the Marinette flank for the extra point, however, he failed."

Referring to another march down the field which resulted in a touchdown, McMillan wrote, "Hushek and Mead were the chief ground grinders, Ed tearing through the center of the line, sweeping the tackles for consistent yardage and Bobby harrying the ends and tackles with his fancy stepping that had the entire Marinette team buffaloed.

"Again Marinette joys were not of long duration, for after receiving the kick-off and an exchange of punts Marinette lost the ball on the 31-yard line. That much yardage was just duck soup for friend Bobby. He was back in the tailback position, starting a slant at right tackle to draw the defense in, then cut wide and circled the field for another mark, but again the try for extra point failed.

"Again Marinette kicked off, again an exchange of punts followed, and again Mead scored, this time with able help from Hushek, who was the principle ground gainer on the march, but Bobby happened to be handling the leather on the play that went over, Hushek going a great job of blocking as Bobby sped on his way.

"The final score was another bit of individual brilliance by Mead, who tucked the leather under his arm after taking a pass, circled left end, cut back to mid-field and then reversed to the sidelines, running 29 yards for the touchdown.

"The game was played under old rules for the most part, because of an earlier agreement, and the Menominee entry benefited largely because of Mead's catlike ability to roll over and over, but always to come up on his feet with both dogs bounding toward the enemy goal line.

"Any number of times he was downed under the new dead ball rule, but he squirmed to his feet and made yard after yard, twice going for touchdowns on plays that would ordinarily have been called back."

Potato Production
Above Expectations

Estimated potato production in the 30 late crop states, based on reported harvested yields, is approximately 294,500,000 bushels or about 1,600,000 bushels more than was indicated by the October 1 reports on condition of crop and expected yields, according to information received by Lee Stewart, county agent. The estimated production is about one per cent (or 3,700,000 bushels) less than the 1931 crop in these 30 states. Crop increases in the past month occurred mostly in the surplus states in the east, in Michigan and on the western coast.

Many of the central and western states show a decline in production since October 1, offsetting part of the increase made elsewhere. In a few of the late states for which smaller production is now indicated, less of acreage has been allowed for in the yield per acre estimates, pending the adjustment of acreage to a harvest basis in the December report.

In the early and intermediate states, reports on harvested yields added a million bushels to the previously reported production so that the November estimate of total U. S. production stands at 359,400,000 bushels compared with 375,500,000 bushels in 1931.

Petoskey Back at End for Minnesota Battle

GOPHERS NEXT FOR MICHIGAN

Johnny Reggezi Returns To Form, Gets Call At Fullback

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 14. (AP)—The last practice Monday of the 1932 season found the Wolverine football squad in fine fettle today as they began work for the Minnesota game Saturday at Minneapolis. The boys were in high spirits as they trotted out on South Ferry Field and warmed up with shouts of "Just one more to go."

Coach Harry Kipke gave out some new plays today, and if they are ready to click against the Gophers, Minnesota's eleven is due for a busy afternoon. Added to the set of offensive formations given out last week which were not used against Chicago, the plays should furnish material for an attack with plenty of variety.

Kipke used Ted Petoskey at end today after several weeks at fullback. The return of Johnny Reggezi to good physical condition and his superiority over Petoskey as running back and blocker may mean that sensational sophomore punter will get the call at fullback Saturday. In that case Petoskey would divide the left end assignment with Willis Ward. Petoskey had a good day at fullback against Illinois but was disappointed since then. In the Chicago game Petoskey usually was in the way of ball carriers while attempting to block.

Reggezi and Herman Everhardus gave a great punting exhibition this afternoon before the squad was called together for the offensive drill. Evie's kicking in the Chicago game raised him to an equal rating with Reggezi in this department of the game. Both can kick high and far enough to satisfy any coach. Everhardus gets the edge a little faster, but Reggezi has some advantage in placing his punts.

A team of substitutes put on yellow jerseys today and took instructions on Minnesota plays from Coach Bennie Oosterbaan. They will be sent against the varsity later in the week. Coach Oosterbaan after scouting the Gophers for three games reports they have power but not "too much intelligence." Confidence is growing in the Michigan camp that Minnesota can be defeated.

In College Grid Camps

Evansville, Ill., Nov. 14. (AP)—Still weary from their bruising battle at Notre Dame Saturday, Northwestern's regulars were excused from practice today. Coach Dick Hanley said Harry Loeper, a sophomore, will take the injured Pug Reutner's place in the backfield.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 14. (AP)—A light drill on new formations today started Illinois' preparation for the Ohio State game Saturday, his final contest of the season.

Chicago, Nov. 14. (AP)—Members of the University of Chicago squad who played against Michigan Saturday were given a day of rest today by Coach A. A. Stagg. The Maroons came out of the battle in good physical condition.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 14. (AP)—Wisconsin's varsity was given a rest today as a reward for its good performance against Minnesota. Whether Dave Tobias, tackle, and Ed Smith, fullback, who were injured Saturday, will be able to play against Chicago was still undecided.

Iowa City, Nov. 14. (AP)—Coach Ossie Solem spent half of the University of Iowa practice period today in giving the Hawkeyes a combined blackboard demonstration of Northwestern plays and pep talk in pointing for the Wildcat game Saturday.

Minneapolis, Nov. 14. (AP)—A snow storm and cold snap kept Minnesota's gridgers indoors today as the first preparation for the Michigan game found the Gophers polishing up their offensive against the Wolverines' style of defense.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 14. (AP)—A light Monday drill and a census of the injured made up the Purdue football squad's preparation today for the annual game with Indiana. Pardoner, Carter and Moore were not expected to see further duty this season.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 14. (AP)—Coach E. C. Hayes started today to build a defensive backfield, for use when his Indiana football team meets Purdue Saturday. Dayer was named a probable starter.

Columbus, O., Nov. 14. (AP)—Ohio State's varsity grid team was excused from practice today to view a game between the freshmen and the reserves.

None of the Buckeyes was hurt seriously in the Pennsylvania game Saturday except Bert Nisman, who injured his knee and probably will be out for the rest of the year.

Sunday's Results

Green Bay 21; Boston 0
Brooklyn 3; Chicago Cardinals 0
New York 27; Staten Island 7
Portsmouth 13; Chicago Bears 13

Boston, Nov. 13. (AP)—The world championship Green Bay Packers team today closed Boston's National Professional football season by defeating the Boston Braves, 21 to 0, with a sensational forward passing display at Braves' field before 20,000 persons.

All of the Packers' scoring came through the air. In the first period Arnold Herber scored Roger Grove with a pass from the Boston 10-yard line. Harry O'Boyle place-kicked the extra point. Herber fed Verne Lewellen a long pass early in the second period and the halfback ran 30 yards over the Boston line.

Just before the half closed Herber threw a 35-yard pass to Johnny Blood in the Boston end zone for the final score. The other Green Bay extra points were supplied by Grove's place kick and Herber's forward to Dilweg.

Friedman's Kick Wins

New York, Nov. 13. (AP)—Bunny Friedman's field goal in the first period gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 3-0 decision over the Chicago Cardinals in a National Professional Football league game here today.

A pass, Friedman to Riblett, for a 20-yard gain took the Dodgers to the Cards' eight-yard line. There they could make only a yard on three tries at the line and Friedman then place-kicked the winning field goal. Each team had chances to score in the final quarter but could not pierce the other's defense when touchdowns loomed.

Giants Win Easily

New York, Nov. 13. (AP)—The New York Giants romped to a 27-7 victory over Stapleton in a National Professional Football league fixture at the Polo Grounds today.

After Art Schieleb had plunged through from the seventy-yard line to give Stapleton the opening touchdown of the game, the Giants opened up an attack that accounted for two touchdowns in that quarter, one in the third and one in the fourth. Cagle scored twice for the Giants, once on a 70-yard run and again on a pass from McBride. Tom Jones, giant line-man, recovered a fumble and ran across the goal line for another score and McBride passed to Barnett for the fourth. Molenda kicked three goals for the Giants while Ken Strong added the extra point after Stapleton's touchdown.

Fifth Tie For Bears

Chicago, Nov. 13. (AP)—The Chicago Bears today battled the Portsmouth Spartans to a 13 to 13 tie, for their fifth draw of the National Football league season.

The Bears scored first, counting in the first period when Keth Molesworth carried the ball over and Tiny Engestrom place-kicked the extra point. The Spartans came back with a powerful drive in the second and led at the intermission, 13 to 7. Glenn Prosser and Gutowski provided the Portsmouth touchdowns and Dutch Clark was successful on one of the points thereafter.

Bronko Nagurski hammered over for the final Bear score in the last period, but Engestrom, who had kicked five straight extra points in recent games, missed the attempt that would have given the Bears victory and second place in the league.

WRESTLING

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 14. (AP)—After losing the first fall, Les Fishbaugh of Newark, Ohio, threw Martino Angelo of Buffalo twice tonight to win the main match of a wrestling card here. The times of the falls were 13:50, 8:11 and 11:40. Fishbaugh weighed 162; Angelo 155.

Other results: Ted Waters, 171, Gallup, N. M., threw Dan Morris, 174, Sandusky, Ohio; 23:53, and Johnny Herley, 146, Toledo, threw Emilio Pirpo, 150, Philippine Islands, 11:40.

Detroit, Nov. 14. (AP)—Wildcat McCann, 151, of Portland, Ore., defeated Jack Reynolds, 146 1-2, Indianapolis, claimant to the world welterweight championship, two falls out of three in a wrestling match here tonight.

McCann took the first fall in 9:32 and Reynolds the second in 7:09. McCann wound up the match by taking the third fall in 7:30. All were on body slams.

Iota Shima, Japanese, and Ray Meyers, of Louisville, took one fall apiece in the semi-final and Gordon Arquette, Tacoma, beat Bob Martin, Flint, Mich., in the one-fall preliminary.

Eskymo Gridders Pick Finman 1933 Captain

Harold Finman, halfback on the Escanaba high school football team of the past two seasons, yesterday was elected captain of the 1933 Escanaba football squad. Finman will succeed Harry Monson who piloted the Eskymos the season just past.

The election of Finman to captaincy was made by a group of 18 members of the squad who are expected to receive their varsity football letters from Coach Carl Nordberg.

While it was not announced that the 18 members of the squad who were called to vote for the captain-elect have been selected as letter winners by Coach Nordberg, it was generally accepted that that group of men will be honored with varsity emblems. It is customary for the lettermen to elect the captain for the following season.

The 18 men who voted in the election for the captaincy were:

NO SCORES ON COLGATE TEAM

Red Raiders Meet Real Foe in Brown on Thanksgiving

BY ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 14. (AP)—Colgate's Red Raiders, if they can hurdle the formidable Brown Bear on Thanksgiving Day in the climax football game for the only two remaining undefeated, untied eastern teams, have a rare opportunity to finish the season in a blaze of championship glory.

No major team in the country, within the past ten years, has escaped without being scored on at least once. Colgate now is the only big college outfit remaining with an unblemished defensive record.

To discover anything like an impressive stretch of peerless defensive play, it is necessary to go back to the days before the open game broke down ancient defensive barriers. In 1888, W. H. (Pa) Corbitt's Yale team held its opponents absolutely scoreless in 13 games while rolling up 699 points. Michigan's 1901 aggregation, the first of four successive unbeaten Wolverine combinations, ran up 550 points to none for the enemy.

Michigan's 1925 goal line was uncrossed but the Wolverines lost their only game of the season to Northwestern on a field goal. Southern teams have posted the best defensive records among the unbeaten aggregations in the last two years. Alabama's 1929 array yielded only 13 points in ten games, including the Rose Bowl classic, and the 1931 Tennessee team permitted only 15 points in ten games.

Colgate, after breezing through eight games with a record of 243 points to none for the opposition, probably will find Brown the toughest foe of the season. Brown in succession administered the first defeats of the season to such teams as Yale, Tufts, Harvard, Holy Cross and Columbia. The Bears have yielded only 21 points in seven games.

OTTEY THIRD IN X-COUNTRY RUN

George Barker, New York Star is First; Joe McCluskey, Second

BY EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Nov. 14. (AP)—George H. Barker, distance star of New York university today won the annual intercollegiate cross country championship here in record time. A local school, Manhattan college, captured the team title for the first time in the 33 year history of the meet.

Barker, reaching as a senior the goal he has been striving for since his freshman year, raced over the Van Cortlandt Park course, somewhat under six miles, in 23 minutes, 58 1-2 seconds, almost half a minute under the record of 25:26.5 set by Dan Dean of Pennsylvania last year.

Tom Ottey, of Michigan State, is also McCluskey, managed to stick close to Barker through the hills but he could not match the speed of either in the final test on the flat, finishing third a hundred yards back and almost five seconds above the old record.

The four year feud of Barker, three times metropolitan champion, and McCluskey, winner of the Olympic steeplechase try-outs and third place winner in the international games at Los Angeles, overshadowed the remainder of the frantic battling among 112 youngsters from 16 colleges and universities.

Barely beaten off McCluskey for the individual championship when they ran the three mile course at Freshman Barker came back to finish fifth as a sophomore, and third last year, both times ahead of the Fordham ace. Barker again turned the tables in the 1932 metropolitan championships, beating his pet rival for the title, but he ran nowhere against McCluskey in the Olympic tryouts.

To Manhattan, with 71 points for team victory in the varsity races, also went group honors in the freshman jaunt of three miles.

Danny Smith, Rutgers, led a field of 64 freshman home in 14 minutes, 33 1-2 seconds, but the Manhattan freshman, with Albert Acerno placing second, 50 yards back, and runners in fourth, eighth, twelfth and twenty-first positions, took a minimum of 47 points for the junior team title.

Frank Crowley, in fifth position 30 yards back of Arthur Foote, last of the Harvard squad that won the team title last year, was the first of the Manhattan runners to finish in the varsity race. Teammates gave Manhattan a total of 71 points, however, with Syracuse second with 111 points.

Other varsity teams finished in this order: New York University, 115 points; Michigan State, 125; Penn State, 128; Harvard, 139; Cornell, 298; Maine, 217; Yale, 243; Pittsburgh, 277; Princeton, 302; Columbia, 319; Dartmouth, 325; Mass Institute of Technology, 323; and Fordham, 376.

City college of New York did not finish a five-man team. The first finishers in the six mile varsity race with their times:

1. George H. Barker, N. Y. U. Time 28:58 4-5.
2. Joseph P. McCluskey, Fordham, 29:08.
3. Thomas C. Ottey, Mich. State, 29:33.
4. Arthur Foote, Harvard, 30:01.
5. Frank Crowley, Manhattan, 30:03.
6. Francis T. Nordell, N. Y. U., 30:09.
7. John J. Ryan, Manhattan, 30:15.
8. John W. Turley, Yale, 30:27.
9. Charles R. King, Penn State, 30:44.
10. John M. Hammer, Michigan State, finished in 22nd position in 31:17.

DEATH CLAIMS 'BOSS' SCHMIDT

Rated by Some as Baseball Immortal, Played With Ty Cobb

Altus, Ark., Nov. 14. (AP)—A baseball veteran, Charles (Boss) Schmidt, former catcher with the Detroit Tigers and later manager and coach of several other clubs, who claimed he was the only man who held a complete batting triumph over Ty Cobb, died today.

As "Boss" whimsically put it, "I had to lick Ty three times to make him admit it."

Schmidt died in the home of a physician here, where he was taken when he became desperately ill of acute intestinal obstruction at Clarksville last night. He was 52 years old.

Schmidt played in three world series when Hughey Jennings was pitching the Bengals to pennants and when Ty Cobb, now in retirement, rated the reputation of the greatest ball player in the game. Many baseball writers ranked Schmidt among immortals of the diamond.

Played With Tigers Breaking into organized baseball with Springfield, Ill., in 1901, Schmidt joined the Rock Island IL club three years later. He then was purchased by Minneapolis and the Detroit Tigers bought him at the end of his first season. He caught 146 games for the Tigers in 1907 and also caught three of the world series games that fall.

Later he played with Mobile of the Southern Association, with the Vernon club of the Pacific, and then went to the Memphis Chicks in the Southern. He made his managerial debut in 1919 with Sioux City of the Western League. He coached for Brockton and managed Springfield in 1921, and then went to Galamago as manager. He later piloted the St. Joseph and Fort Smith clubs of the Western League.

In 1929, he took an assignment as coach of his old team, the Detroit Tigers, only recently returning to his home at Coal Hill, near Clarksville, Ark.

Wright Addresses Kiwanians Here

Atty. Ivan Wright, Ironwood, lieutenant-governor of the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan district of Kiwanis International, was the principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Escanaba-Wells Kiwanis club at the Ludington hotel yesterday noon.

Mr. Wright outlined the objectives of the Kiwanis club's program for the coming year, discussing particularly the plans for promoting better citizenship, closer relations between the rural and urban citizens, vocational guidance, boys' and girls' work, and other fields of community service. He also discussed briefly the various arrangements that will have to be made for the district convention of Kiwanis clubs, which will be held in Escanaba next summer.

The Kiwanis club voted to sponsor the sending of six boys to the Older Boys' Conference the latter part of the week, and members of the club also will serve as waiters at the banquet Saturday evening.

A meeting of the board of directors of the club will be held at President George E. Harvey's office Friday night to further discuss the plans for next year's convention.

Hunters Trekking Into North Woods

Hunters are coming into Luce county, not in such numbers as former years, but enough to keep gas stations busy, some of them all night, and to give a fine boost in trade to the restaurants and hotels. The stores are also feeling the increase in business, both the grocery stores and those places selling hunting equipment.

Many of the local hunters are already in the woods. Some of them went out Saturday and spent the weekend getting the cabins and camps in shape, and getting up wood. The sale of deer licenses is also going well.

The northern part of the county is attracting the usual groups, some of the downstate men coming here each year for more than a quarter of a century.

Among the large clubs whose members have done business here the past few days is the Buckhorn club near the Antlers. These men are from Kalamazoo. In the group this year are Henry Hysman, Paul Sangren, Peter VanDuine and W. A. Quitsch.

George Hooker's usual crowd from Akron, Glennie and East branch are camped on the East branch of the Two Heart. The Moon aggregation are near Welch Lake in the northwestern part of the county. These men are mostly from Cadillac. The S. R. Harris family of father and sons are west of the Whorl club.

James Cook of Dollarville has his usual bunch north of McMillan. They are this year Sam Cook of Panton, Mitchell Cook of Harbor Beach, Tom Cook of Grindstone City and Emory Brewer of Seewig.

Isaac Roberts and wife and Leonard Peterson and wife left on Sunday for their hunting camp near Grand Marais.

Martin Derfardier of Grand Haven including George Weber and Paul Mastenbrook and a group from Holland, Ralph and Ira Decker and Cecil White are west of the Whorl club.

Snow started falling on Saturday and good tracking snow is now present. A large number of local hunters plan to be in the woods at the peak of day on Tuesday.

NEWBERRY BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stillman and daughter, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Allan Fox, have returned to their home in Davenport, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Garrett, who have been spending a week in Milwaukee with Mrs. Garrett's mother, Mrs. Moeller, have arrived home.

The Bethel Ladies' Aid will hold a supper and sale on Thursday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown at the Newberry state hospital.

The Bethel Missionary society will meet on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. J. Weber.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK

Miss Olive Hagan, teacher in the Kwassai college in Japan, will speak at an afternoon meeting of the Missionary society to be held at the Bethel church on November 26. Miss Hagan is home on a furlough and is visiting at her home in Lake Linden.

STUDY CLUB

Negro music will be the theme of the November 15 meeting of the Newberry Study club which will be held at the home of Mrs. C. L. Bystrom instead of Mrs. Barrett. This change was made because of the serious illness of Mrs. Barrett.

The song, Swanee River will open the program. The roll call will be answered by a current event. The Ladies' Chorus will give two Negro spirituals: Swing Low, Sweet Chariot, and Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen.

Mrs. Richardson will give a biographical sketch of Stephen Foster. The male quartet will sing "Swing Along Chillin'" and assembly singing will render Carry Me Back, Old Black Joe and Old Kentucky Home. Mrs. E. H. Campbell, president, will give her report of the Federation convention held last month in Detroit.

WOULD RETURN OF BEER MAKE EXTRA LABOR?

optimism to bring the jobs above a half million at most, and it might even be as low as the 1914 figure of 250,000.

Against this gain, however, you must set off a good share of the speakeasy proprietors, bartenders, bootleggers, delivery boys, truckmen, hijackers, and prohibition agents who have jobs under the present regime.

Maybe you don't like to think of some of those as jobs, but they are, and many of them would vanish if beer became legal. The federal government alone has been arrested 60,000 a year, so you can guess how many escape. The bootleg industry, further, is decentralized, has small-unit production, is inefficient. The organized brewery is centralized, has big-unit production, is most efficient.

Money and Jobs

Even that might be a clear gain, because the jobs would be honest and legal and aboveboard. But that is a gain in the quality of jobs, not the quantity. The point is that the expected gain in jobs through beer apparently has been greatly exaggerated, nobody knows what the net gain in the number of jobs would be, though the gain in conditions of those jobs is unquestionable.

Now how about money? The government, with a huge deficit, and running behind about a half billion every year, needs money badly. Will beer bring it in?

Here there is general agreement that beer will bring the government a lot of money. But how much?

The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment says a billion a year. So does the New York Post Men's Association. John J. Raskob who recently estimated a billion a year, including light wines. The Investment Bankers' Association says $750,000,000.

In 1919, just before prohibition, the beer tax had been boosted to six dollars a barrel. That tax, by the way, is still in effect, never having been repealed. At that rate it is estimated that beer would bring in some $300,000,000. There would be a saving on the millions being spent annually for enforcement, but it would be partially offset by the expense of collecting the new tax. On this basis one might estimate $350,000,000 a year if 75 per cent of the people find themselves living in states which allow them to have their beer.

There would be further savings in courts and jails. Some 65 per cent of federal prosecutions are now liquor cases, with a corresponding proportion of federal prisoners being supported in jail by taxes. A competent estimate places this saving to the federal government at $4,000,000 every year for care of prisoners alone. Governor-elect C. M. St. Louis plans a wholesale pardoning of Volstead act prisoners after he takes office, in view of the repudiation of the dry law by the erstwhile "life for a pint" state.

The tax might perhaps be boosted to $10 a barrel instead of $6, though of course it can't be put too high or it leaves an opening wedge for the old-fashioned bootlegger or revenue-dodger. A $10 tax would boost the above total to over a half million yearly. At $10 a barrel, the drinker would pay about 4 cents tax on a 10 cent pint bottle. All the "luxury taxes" passed by the last congress, however, fell woefully below their estimates, and the beer tax might do the same. However, even a quarter of a billion dollars a year might be sneezed at by any government.

In short, beer won't balance the budget, but it would be a big help.

The idea that restored beer would be a big boon to the farmer has been exploded. One of the talking points used by the dries in persuading congress to propose national prohibition during the war was the immense saving of grain (11,000,000 bushels of brewers' vats, they cried). But we know now that only about two per cent of the country's grain went into brewing. That may have been important in the days of war-time shortage, but not now when farmers burn their grain for fuel.

Grange Is Opposed
Practically no oats, wheat, or corn went into beer bottles, though 30 per cent of the barley did. But the barley, rice, hops and rye used in beer-brewing are minor parts of the U. S. grain crop. The National Grange is squarely against beer. It figures that the farmer is selling more dairy products to milk and ice cream dealers since prohibition.

Would legal beer eliminate the racketeer? Again, nobody knows. It would certainly deal him a heavy blow in places like Chicago and New York where the beer racket is organized on a huge scale. But several small brewers in Chicago have already declared that the beer racketeer has such a big money stake in his business that he isn't going to give up without a bitter struggle. Al Capone's interests are said to operate 38 breweries in Chicago right now.

These small brewers feel certain that if they were to resume making legal beer the racketeers would be in their offices the next day telling them to whom they could deliver their beer, and at what prices. But this seems in extreme view.

What effect it would have on the whiskey racket indirectly, again nobody knows. There would still be a demand for whiskey among drinkers who would be unsatisfied with the very mild 2.75 or even 4 per cent brews proposed, and where there is a demand there is always somebody to supply at the price. But there is no question that legal beer would also deal a blow, though a lighter one, to the whiskey racket.

What of Business?

Probably the biggest immediate effect on business would be from the huge sums brewers would have to spend to modernize plants which have lain idle, most of them, since 1920. Repairs, building, and new machinery have been competently estimated at $200,000,000. Col. Jake (Knickerbocker) Ruppert has $2,000,000 ready to put into his New York plant; Brooklyn's Henry G. (Piel's Lager) Piel, a million; the Schlitz firm (which Made Milwaukee Famous), $3,000,000; Bush, $1,000,000 in St. Louis.

All that would help. The brewers' big horses may be gone forever, but some 50,000 motor trucks and 200,000 railroad cars would be needed to carry the products of the restored breweries. That would help, too.

All these estimates, or more properly, guesses, boil down to this: if beer were legalized the government would get a big revenue, employment would be improved in quality even if not greatly increased, the grain surplus would be little affected, the beer racketeer would be dealt a heavy, but perhaps not a mortal, blow.

NEXT: How will the sale of beer be handled if legalized? What plans have been proposed, and what plans do other countries use?

Changes His Plea In Robbery Case

Detroit, Nov. 14 (AP)—Charged with robbery armed following the kidnapping last year of Michael Crane, Wyandotte auto salesman, Doc Bryant changed his plea to guilty today when he appeared with Howard Carter for trial in circuit court. The sentence was taken under advisement and the trial of Carter proceeded with Ott Humphrey, who also is facing similar charges, the state's chief witness, Crane was kidnapped and robbed of $8,000.
